SAME PREDICTED FOR TONIGHT

Cloudy Weather With Rising Temperature in Sight Friday—Cold Wave Generally Felt

SPRING NOTES

With the mercury hovering near zero, Frank Becraft, living on the Don Brooks farm five miles east of Rushville, has opened a sugar water camp and reports the flow to be good.

Ten gallons of maple molasses were made Wednesday while the wind was blowing a gale and the thermometer showed only a few degrees above zero.

Other camps will be operating, it is predicted, as soon as the present cold snap passes.

The coldest temperature recorded for 1923 was registered during the night, when the mercury fell to 4 degrees above zero, according to the thermometer in charge of Elwood Kirkwood, county weather observer, at Mauzy. The previous low record made for the winter was in December, when a few points below zero had been reached.

The predictions for the next 24 hours is that the mercury will continue to be low, with probably 5 above as the coldest tonight. Friday will be cloudy with rising temperature in sight, but it will remain cold regardless of the slowly rising temperature, according to the prediction.

The mercury here registered the same as at Indianapolis last night, while in Chicago it reached 4 below, Peoria, Ill., also reported 2 below, while at Cincinnati it was reported as four above, the same as at Indianapolis and here.

To Last 36 Hours

Washington, Feb. 15.—The present cold weather will last 36 hours longer at least with the probability of holding on much longer, the weather bureau stated today.

The forecast for the next 36 hours is for continued cold for all of the territory east of the Mississippi with a decided drop in the temperature tonight in Virginia, North and South.

The memorial will be in the form of a group of new buildings at the university and the goal of the campaign is $1,600,000. The buildings will consist of a dormitory, athletic stadium and Union building. They will be erected as a memorial to the sons and daughters of Indiana university who had part in the World War.

ADMINISTRATION IN CHANGED ATTITUDE

Threat of Filibuster Against Army Bill Leads President to Take Different Position

$56,000,000 "PORK" IN BILL

By LAWRENCE MARTIN
(C. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Feb. 15.—Threat by certain members of congress to defeat the army bill unless President Harding disavowed his intention of curtailing expenditures authorized by it, resulted today in the administration changing its attitude.

The president had let it be known that of the $56,000,000 the bill provides for rivers and harbors, only $27,000,000—the amount fixed by the budget bureau—be spent.

Then congressmen who wanted to spend the full amount announced they would filibuster against the bill unless the president agreed not to interfere with the expenditure. Such a filibuster would beat the bill and leave the war department without funds. The administration modified its previous stand and let it be known that only useless expenditures would be opposed.

RUSH COUNTY IS GIVEN 6TH PLACE

One Of Counties Awarded Pennant For Showing Made In 1922 Christmas Seals Campaign

BASED ON PER CAPITA SALES

Rush County Represented By Three Women At State Tuberculosis Association Meeting

Rush county ranked sixth place in the state in the percentage of sales per capita in the Christmas Seals campaign in 1922, it was announced Wednesday at the annual meeting of the State Tuberculosis Association, and the Rush county association was awarded a pennant for the good showing made in the drive.

The Rush county organization was represented at the state meeting by Mrs. T. M. Green, Miss Anna Bohannon and Miss Laura Trussler.

The seal campaign in Rush county was conducted by the Psi Iota Xi sorority and the quota was placed at $1,800, and was surpassed by a few dollars. The showing made by Rush county in the state is regarded as excellent, and speaks highly of the workers.

Bartholmew county headed the state and the per capita sales, and their percent was 13.1; Allen county ranked second with 10.8; Fountain county third with 10.5 percent; Marion county, fourth with a percent of 9.7; Vanburg county fifth, with 9.4 per cent and Rush county had 9.3 percent.

The showing made by Rush county this year was higher than last, because the quota was placed at a higher mark than in previous years. The pennant given to Rush county for the good record will probably be displayed in a day or so in a downtown show window.

RAINEY FINED $50 AND COST

Arraigned In Newcastle Police Court For Dry Law Violation

(Special to The Daily Republican.)

Newcastle, Ind., Feb. 15.—Harry Rainey of Rushville and Edgar Flenor of Muncie, were each fined $50 and costs amounting to $80, in police court here Wednesday afternoon before Mayor Morris on a charge of violating the prohibition laws. The two men were jailed about midnight Tuesday, and the automobile in which they were riding was turned over to the owners of a factory in Muncie. The Muncie man paid his fine, Rainey was still confined in jail this morning, but was making an effort to secure his release.

The Rushville man referred to above was said to have obtained his release by paying the fine according to several people today, who said they saw him in this city this afternoon.

Joint Meeting For Two Townships Follows Successful Ripley Township Institute at Carthage

Ripley Township Farmers and Their Wives Pleased With Revival of Annual Event Wednesday

The first farmers' institute held in Ripley township for several years drew to a close at the Carthage Auditorium Wednesday afternoon and this morning the annual joint institute for Union township, Rush county, and Fairview township, Fayette county, opened at the Fairview school building at 9:30 o'clock. The Ripley township institute closed with the election of officers and the announcement of the awards in the exhibits.

Mrs. William Goldsmith and W. H. Senour were the speakers on the joint institute program today. Mrs. Goldsmith spoke this morning on "Poultry Keeping For Profit" and this afternoon on "Economy, Efficiency and Enjoyment in the Home". The address by Mr. Senour this morning was on theme, "Farm Wastes", and this afternoon his subject was "Purpose in Education."

A program was carried out by the Fairview Township Farmers association at the school building Wednesday night, as a preliminary to the institute.

All exhibits in the corn show and ladies department were to be in place Wednesday evening as the judges arrived early this morning to begin placing the premiums. Joe Helms of Richmond was the corn judge and a woman from the domestic science department of Purdue university was the judge in the ladies department.

A piano solo by Miss Mary Patton and a selection by a male quartette was on the program this morning and this afternoon the entertainment features were a musical number by the Misses Gladys and Helen Downs and a piano duet by the Misses Mariam Fry and Lucile Beeson.

The successful revival of the farmers' institute at Carthage was the source of much gratification on the part of Ripley township people. The ladies of the Ripley Country Club joined with the Ripley Township Farmers' association in boosting the institution and making it a success.

At the close of the afternoon session yesterday, new officers were elected and preparations made for even a better meeting next year.

Harry Bentley was elected president; Luther Gibson, vice-president; Howard Winslow, secretary; Jesse Henley, treasurer; chairmen of exhibits committee, Earl Sears of the farmers' association and Mrs. Jesse Henley of the Country Club; vice-chairman of the exhibits committee, Mrs. Earl Sears; chairmen of the program committee, Mrs. T. B. Henley and Mrs. James McGeorge of the women's branch of the organization and Roy Herkless and Frank Overman of the farmers' association; finance committee, James McGeorge and Frank Overman.

Quit Veterans Bureau Post Before Sailing, Watson Says

(By United Press)

Washington, Feb. 15.—Col. C. R. Forbes, director of the veterans bureau, placed his resignation in President Harding's hands before he left for Europe two weeks ago, Senator James Watson of Indiana, said today.

President Harding has in mind as possible successor to Forbes "three men who served in the trenches", one of whom he will eventually designate, Watson said.

Public Service Commission Remains in Tact When House Rejects The Clapp Bill

TO ABOLISH SERVICE BOARD

Senate Kills Bill Which Sought to do Away With Pension System For School Teachers

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 15.—Following senate endorsement of the public service commission, the state of representatives today rejected the Clapp bill which would have abolished the utility body and reestablished the railroad commission.

Clapp's measure was designed to repeal the law creating the service commission and restore its power over local utilities to cities, except jurisdiction over railroads which would have been vested in the railroad commission.

The senate debated the efforts to abolish the system of pensioning school teachers and finally killed the bill carrying provisions for such a step. It rejected the minority committee report recommending that the bill be passed by a vote of 10 to 32, and the report of the committee majority recommending indefinite postponement was adopted.

The measure was presented jointly by Senators King, Hartzell, Holmes and Harmon.

The pension system would stabilize the teaching profession, Senator Henley said in speaking against the bill. "It encourages those that dedicate their lives to the teaching profession."

A bill which would extend the limit of ages to eighteen years for the girls working six hours a day was introduced by Representative Thiel. The age limit is now fourteen to sixteen years. Thiel also introduced a bill which would prohibit employment of women and girls between hours of eleven p. m. and six p. m.

Persons proven guilty of neglect of duty, mal-administration, or any criminal offense, could be removed from public office, by circuit court on petition of five electors, under a bill introduced by Representative Ogden.

Any person between the ages of twenty-one and thirty-two years, having lived in Indiana for a period of five years or more and having attended high school for a year or more, would be permitted to complete their high school course in a

STOVE PIPE FALLS, DEPARTMENT CALLED

Home Of Alva Junkin Fills With Smoke And Firemen Are Unable To Locate Supposed Fire

REQUEST BY THE FIRE CHIEF

A stove pipe attached to a coal stove at the home of Alva Junkin, 223 East Sixth street, fell down Wednesday afternoon shortly before four o'clock, and filled the house with smoke. The fire department was notified, but no loss was incurred.

Fire Chief Williamson today stated that people who telephone alarms to the station, should direct the firemen to the house by giving the street number, and the name of the occupant. A misunderstanding yesterday took the firemen on a joy ride, as they were unable to find the house, although they passed it twice, and no one signalled them. All three divisions answered the call, which was the second run for the day.

The department should be called in all cases where there is any danger. An investigation of smoke by the firemen may often times prevent a serious loss and the department would rather do the investigating than to take any chance of having fire break out. Flues burning out may cause roof fires, unless they are closely watched. In all cases, it is important, that the firemen be given proper directions over the telephone, the fire chief stated.

POLICE WARNING OF FLEEING GAME

COMPELLED TO RETURN MONEY

Police issued a warning today to people of Rushville, regarding a fleeing game which was called to their attention Wednesday afternoon by residents of East Eighth street. The police traced her down in the afternoon, and was compelled to refund all donations which she had obtained by telling false stories, and the groceries also were returned. Several people registered a complaint before she was apprehended.

Minor Matters Taken Up In Circuit Court When Case Scheduled For Trial Is Postponed

A few minor court matters were being taken care of today in the circuit court when the case scheduled for trial before a jury was postponed. The jury will not be called into service until next Tuesday for trial. Henry W. Beckner, administrator has filed against Elmira Miller et al., in a petition to sell real estate in order to pay off debts against the estate. A similar suit has been filed by Curtis Geise, an administrator against Mary Linville, and others, in order to secure permission to sell real estate to pay debts involved in the estate of Martha Looney.

Lillie Myers has filed a suit in the nature of a claim against the estate of William B. Martin, in which James H. Martin is administrator. The demand of the plaintiff is for $44.11 on her claim.

A citation has been ordered by the court for the arrest of Gifford Cook of near Fairview, to appear Saturday morning, and show why he should not be punished for contempt of court. The citation was ordered by his divorced wife, Marie Cook, for failure to comply with an order on allowance as set out in the decree.

RETIREMENT OF ARMY MAN IS A SENSATION

Maj. Gen. Cronkhite's Prosecution of Those Thought Guilty of His Son's Murder Believed Cause

SENDS PROTEST TO PRESIDENT

(By United Press)

Washington, Feb. 15.—A sensation has been caused in military circles here by the forced retirement from the army of the Major General Cronkhite, formerly in command of the third corps area. Cronkhite whose son, Major Alexander P. Cronkhite is alleged to have been murdered at Camp Lewis in Washington in 1918, has written a strong letter of protest directly to President Harding, it was learned here today.

Ever since his son's death, the general has been conducting a vigorous campaign to force the prosecution of those guilty of the crime.

Charges of Cronkhite that his efforts have been hampered by high officials here were believed to have been the cause of his involuntary retirement. The general has reached the age of sixty-two years when the president can retire an officer against his wishes.

FRANCE BALKED IN BATTLE FOR COAL

French Miners Approve General Strike to Start Friday Morning and Leave the Posts

BELGIAN MINERS WALK OUT

German Leaders Point Out France Has Only About 2 Per Cent of What She Might Have Had

(By United Press)

France was balked today in her battle for coal—in which she threw 100,000 men and a billion francs into the Ruhr—when French miners approved a general strike to start tomorrow morning and left the pits.

The strike and a simultaneous walkout of Belgian miners was stated to have no connection with the Ruhr situation but Germany took heart at the occurrence. German leaders pointed out that France, during her month's occupation of the Ruhr, has secured about two per cent of what coal she would have received had she stayed away.

M. LeTroquoi, minister of public works began his appeal for British co-operation before Bonar Law and Lords Curzon and Derby at Downing street. The French minister asked Britain to let fuel, trains, troop manned pass through Cologne.

The French government hopes to confine the coal strike to the Loire valley since all miners associations will not go out.

Before British Government

London, Feb. 15.—France's appeal to Great Britain to make the seizure of the Ruhr effective as far as coal seizure is concerned was placed before the British cabinet by Minister of Public Work LeTroquoi.

The French want to run trains loaded with coal that has been seized in the Ruhr pits through Rhine territory occupied by British troops. This applies particularly to the city of Cologne.

The British have no objection to the trains passing through Cologne except that they are manned by French troops and carry German hostages. This, it is felt, constitutes a breach of Britain's sovereignty in the occupied zone.

SHOULD GO TO WAR IF IT IS NECESSARY

Opinion of Senator Reed of Missouri Democrat, Regarding Collection of Foreign Loans

DEBT SETTLEMENT DISCUSSED

(By United Press)

Washington, Feb. 15.—If necessary this country should go to war to collect the money borrowed by foreign governments, Senator Reed, Missouri democrat, declared today in a fiery speech in the senate on the British debt funding bill.

Assailing Great Britain and those who believed the United States ought to be lenient with its debtors, Reed said:

"I have been asked how we are going to get our money. One way is to have enough nerve to demand it. If we can not get it that way then I would get it in the way other nations get their's from weaker nations, I have in mind some possessions of other nations not far from our shores which could be taken within twenty-four hours. I would get the money in the way it has been done through the countless centuries—by insisting on it and if necessary enforcing our rights."

Reed said in his opinion forcible measures would not be needed believing that payments would be made if the United States demanded it. "Much of this talk about conditions across the sea," he said, "reminds men of the class of people called 'gimme girls'. They are girls who always want to get something. Looks like we were in an 'International gimme game and we are to do all the giving.'" bill introduced by Senator Brown. A bill introduced by Senator Buchanan which would require the teaching of the United States constitution in Indiana schools failed when the senate adopted a committee report recommending its indefinite postponement.

Dr. J. N. Hurty, withdrew his second bill for the reorganization of the state board of health because of opposition to the bill, which differed little from the first.

Indications pointed today toward lifting of the war-time ban against teaching of the German language in Indiana schools.

The state senate received a bill passed by the house of representatives late yesterday 63 to 28, to permit the teaching of German in high schools.

Amendments designed to kill the bill were defeated. A similar bill permitting the teaching of German in elementary schools is pending.

The biennial fight over limiting working hours for women raged again last night in hearing before the senate committee on labor. The hearing was on the Holmes bill which would limit the employment of women in most work to fifty hours a week.

Interested persons on both sides of the question appeared before the committee and stated their cases. Friends of the measure said that Indiana and Iowa are the only two northern states that do not limit the working hours of women.

Charges of bribery which sprang up in the house a few days ago in connection with the appropriation bill apparently had died down. Members of the democratic minority ignored the challenge of republicans to prove the charges that certain democrats had been offered $1,000 to deliver five democratic votes for the measure.

parts today laid before the government a plan whereby Britain's objections could be overcome. Details were not at first made public but the French were optimistic of securing Bonar Law's approval.

By WEBB MILLER
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Paris, Feb. 15—French and Belgian miners quit work by the thousands today in a strike over wages. While the general strike declared by the French Miners Federation does not start officially until tomorrow morning, workers at many pits stopped as soon as word of the plan reached them. Several thousand Belgian workers walked out at Guesmes in connection with a nation-wide demand for a 5 percent increase in wages.

The National council of Federated Miners of France has thus far refrained from joining the strike in this country. This is welcomed by operators as a favorable sign but L'Elclair admits a majority of miners in the Loire valley will walkout tomorrow.

The strike is expected to be partially effective in the Nord while the Pas de Calais and the Anzin coal basins await Saturday's interview with employers at Douai.

The German press today expressed fear that Germany would interpret the coal strike as encouragement of resistance in the Ruhr. The petit Parisienne appeals to the patriotism of the workers not to give the Germans this much hope.

Mine Only 52,000 Tons of Coal

Berlin, Feb. 15—France and Belgium have obtained but 52,000 tons of coal since occupation of the Ruhr over a month ago.

The German government calls attention to comparison between this total and two million tons delivered those countries as reparations in the month of December.

Cold Grips Middle West

Chicago, Feb. 15.—The mid-west was in the grip of the coldest weather of the winter today.

The weather bureau predicted the thermometer would fall to ten degrees below zero in Chicago before night. Three deaths from freezing and more than 150 fires were reported during the last 24 hours.

Train service northward was badly crippled and trains on several lines were stalled in isolated sections.

Relief societies rushed food and coal to hundreds of needy families. The cold will continue until Sunday the weather bureau reported.

Blizzard Hits New York

New York, Feb. 15.—A cold wave bringing zero temperatures was swept into the east by high winds today.

New York City was lashed by a 27 mile gale. Several persons were injured by broken glass and falling signs. A plate glass window was blown into the grill room of the Hotel McAlpine late last night, scattering diners, but none was hurt.

A blizzard raged over northern New York the last 24 hours bringing a snow blockade in some parts that demoralized traffic.

Southern States Affected

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 15.—The coldest weather of the winter swept the east today.

Ushered in by a thirty mile wind, temperatures began to drop late yesterday and this morning were the lowest of the year, the weather bureau announced.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "loggy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

VOTE HOPED FOR FRIDAY

No Roll Call Will be Necessary on Debt Settlement Bill

(By United Press)

Washington, Feb. 15—Agreement to vote on the British debt settlement late Friday was hoped for by senate leaders today. Such an agreement will be proposed when the senate meets today.

Senator Reed of Missouri who yesterday spoke for more than an hour against the settlement will resume his attack today. Reed intended to speak four or five hours.

The votes in opposition to the settlement are dwindling so that it appeared today on the final passage of the bill no roll call will be necessary, though Reed or some other hostile senator probably will demand.

TRY A WANT AD

A Quarter Century Of Service

"If a man write a better book or build a better mouse-trap

Tho he live in the depth of the forest
The world will beat a path to his door."
—Emerson.

25 years ago a small druggist—in a small town—discovered a new way—an "external" way—to treat colds. So Vicks was born.

And for a quarter of a century, in ever increasing numbers, the world has beaten a path to its door.

Until today more than 17 million jars go out yearly to serve the people of this land.

Avoid Influenza—Grip—Pneumonia

How To Apply Vicks To Help Avoid These Infections
How To Use Vicks In Case You Are Attacked

DEEP, grippy colds — frequently leading into pneumonia—have been unusually prevalent this winter. Some authorities insist that they are a form of influenza, not so virulent as the influenza during the first epidemic, though they are worse than ordinary colds.

Vicks As a Preventive

Most medical authorities now agree that these troubles are germ diseases—commonly spread by breathing in the germs. If the system is in good shape—the membrane of the air passages in a healthy condition—these germs do not ordinarily breed.

Keep a little Vicks rubbed up the nostrils at all times, particularly when exposed to crowds. At night melt Vicks in a spoon and inhale the vapors, or better still, use Vicks in a teakettle as directed below. This treatment helps to keep the air passages in good condition.

The Danger Is From Pneumonia.

The chief danger lies in the development of pneumonia. What is needed, therefore is something to decrease the congestion of the lungs. For this purpose there is nothing like a rubefacient or counter-irritant, as witness the use of blisters, poultices and plasters for many generations. This irritation reddens the skin—draws the blood from the congested parts to the surface; the circulation is improved; there is a sensation of warmth and the possibility of pneumonia is greatly lessened.

A "Quick" Rubefacient Needed.

The value of this counter-irritant effect is greatly increased if it is produced quickly. Nearly every family has its favorite method—onion poultices, turpentine stapes, mustard plasters and poultices of various kinds—all are good.

A very simple method is to apply towels wrung out in hot water, as hot as the patient can stand. This not only reddens

the skin quickly, but also opens the pores so that more Vicks can be absorbed. Some, however, prefer to use an ordinary mustard plaster, as the reddening effect lasts longer.

Get Skin Thoroughly Red.

Whatever method is used, the application should be applied over the throat and chest until the skin is thoroughly reddened. In very deep colds, the sides and especially the back from the middle of the shoulder blades to a point just above the waist, should also be treated.

The patient should be given a good purgative and, if convenient, a hot mustard footbath for ten minutes—one tablespoon of mustard to a gallon of water.

Then Massage With Vicks

After the skin is thoroughly reddened, it should be dried lightly and immediately the patient should be given a brisk massage with Vicks all over the parts. Continue this for five minutes. This increases the counter-irritant effect. Then apply Vicks thickly over all the parts; that is, spread it on as you would a poultice—about one-sixteenth of an inch thick or more—and cover with two thicknesses of hot flannel cloths.

Vick's Double Action

Thus applied Vicks has a double action. First, Vicks is so made that the body heat gradually releases the ingredients in the form of vapors. The more Vicks applied, the stronger will be the vapors and the longer these vapors will last. The night clothing should always be loose around the neck and the bed clothes arranged in the form of a funnel. These vapors being lighter than air, rise up from the chest and, if the bed clothing is properly arranged, pass by the nose and mouth and are thus inhaled with each breath, carrying the medication directly through the air passages to the lungs.

The second action of Vicks is external—by absorption through and stimulation of the skin.

Repeat Treatment.

When the vapors begin to lose their strength, fresh Vicks should be applied over the throat and chest. This to keep up the continuous supply of vapors. When the redness of the skin dies out, all the Vicks remaining should be wiped off and the entire treatment repeated. That is, the hot wet towels or mustard plaster should be used until the skin is again thoroughly reddened, then massage with Vicks, spread on thickly and cover with hot flannels, just as previously done.

Steam and Vapor Method.

Sometimes when the patient is badly choked up, the vapors from the application on the chest are not sufficient to make the breathing easier. In these cases drop a tablespoonful of Vicks into a kettle of boiling water and allow the patient to inhale the warm steam and vapors combined for about 10 minutes. Do this several times a day if needed. Keep the water boiling and put in additional Vicks whenever the vapors decrease. Put a sheet over the patient and the tea-kettle, making a kind of a tent.

Take no chances with these grippy colds. Remember, Vicks must be used freely to be effective—and always call a doctor.

Last Showing At Princess

Beautiful views of Europe's most fashionable water resort; an absorbing murder trial; colorful action at a fine country estate, and Gloria Swanson in an interesting array of brand new Paris gowns, are announced as high lights of "The Impossible Mrs. Bellew," a new Paramount picture which will be seen at the Princess.

"The Impossible Mrs. Bellew" was adapted by Percy Heath from a novel by David Lisle. It tells of what happens when an innocent wife's reputation is purposely blackened by an unscrupulous lawyer in order to save her worthless husband from conviction of a charge of murder. Becoming a social pariah as "The Impossible Mrs. Bellew," Miss Swanson flees from America to Europe, where the story runs through a gamut of interesting sequences to a romance of which she has been deprived.

Director Sam Wood assembled a capable cast for the support of Miss Swanson. Robert Cain is the husband who causes all the trouble, while Conrad Nagel plays opposite the star in the role of a novelist. Mickey and Pat Moore are seen in sympathetic kiddie roles, while other well-known players, include Richard Wayne, June Elvilge, Herbert Standing, Helen Dunbar, Arthur Hull and Clarence Burton.

It is pointed out that "The Impossible Mrs. Bellew" will have an especial appeal to women, as Miss Swanson wears several choice gowns brought direct from Paris by the star.

At The Mystic Friday

Herbert Rawlinson comes to the screen of the Mystic theatre on Friday in a Universal film play entitled "Another Man's Shoes." The story is one well known to book lovers, for Victor Bridges' novel of that name has been pretty widely read.

Behind Rawlinson's effort in this forthcoming feature stands a director who has been associated with him several times in the past—Jack Conway. Conway directed one of Rawlinson's first successes a few years ago, "Come Through!" and its later version of the past few months, "Don't Shoot!" He also directed some of Universal's other ventures that have scored successes recently, including the one in which Henry B. Walthal, Ralph Graves and Marjorie Rawlinson has the support in "Another Man's Shoes" of a cast which includes the popular Barbara Bedford, Josef Swickard, Una Trevellin, Harry Carter, Nelson McDowell, Lillian Langdon and Jessie Deparnette.

Some of this star's pictures of the past few months that have met with

New York and a few points of interest around the world are the locale of "Another Man's Shoes," which pictures the adventures of a young man brave enough, or foolishly enough to step into the place of another man who is sought by a death band.

THE ROAD TO WANT:—He that oppresseth the poor to increase his riches, and he that giveth to the rich shall surely come to want.—Prov. 22: 16.

Collapse of Europe

A collapse of European civilization, such as the world has never known, may be the result of France's action in the Ruhr.

Every nation in Europe is really bankrupt—and yet every nation is preparing for war and six of them are actually fighting.

With Ireland, India and Egypt mulling and milling in unrest, with Turkey holding a big stick and liable to strike at any moment, England is facing the most critical period in her history—and no allies to call upon. They all have troubles of their own.

Japan is an unknown quantity in this political maelstrom. There is no secret as to the fact that Japan has an old score to balance with England because of the disastrous settlements the latter compelled Japan to accept as victors in the wars with China and with Russia. If the opportunity offers Japan will drive a hard bargain with England in an effort to establish protection on the mainland.

The Balkan States are all on edge ready to strike at each other or anyone else.

Russia sits tight and seems to be as well situated as most of the nations.

Italy is making a desperate struggle to pull through after its bloodless revolution, and may do so if not dragged into the war that now seems inevitable.

France has been spending the money she expected to receive from Germany and, besides maintaining an enormous army and an enormous pension, has contracted indebtedness in double the amount of her possible income, exclusive of her indebtedness to Great Britain and the United States.

Germany, with the Ruhr and Alsace gone, is at the end of the road. She can hardly produce sufficient to maintain her own inhabitants, while the reparation claims call for payments of over $2,000,000 per day for the next fifty years.

The collapse of Germany means the collapse of Europe.

It is estimated that it will take one hundred years for England, France and Germany to pay their existing war debts and interest, if paid at the rate of a million dollars per day each.

As a result of the recent conference regarding the refunding of England's debt to the United States, it is admitted that if all the European debts were cancelled by America, and as much more advanced, it would not help much—in fact it is a question if it would accomplish anything more than to finance another and greater war, that is now being prepared for.

Unemployment; starvation and stagnation stalk the nations of the old world while statesmen flounder in an endless circle. To this date all efforts to solve the problem that seriously threatens a collapse of European civilization has been based on the measure of values instead of the measure of virtue. International money-lenders have become so involved that it appears to be their fight—a fight against each other, a fight in which governments and men are simply pawns for the promoters. That has been the education of European statesmen and rulers—and America will do well to give heed.

The greatest handicap to any solution of the situation is the existence of so many little states or governments, each with its own money systems, tax systems, debts, conflicting laws and regulations, each fighting the other, and heretofore encouraged and financed by the big fellows. Greece and Turkey are good illustrations of this fact and its results.

The only real, logical, lasting solution of old-world problem seems to be in the United States of Europe, formed after the plan of the United States of America. The biggest obstacle to that proposition, however, is the various debts to the money-lenders. The payment of principal and interest would confiscate the surplus production of Europe for the next three generations under the most favorable circumstances.

The alternative presents a very dark picture. Men get hungry they know no law and revolution results. Revolution generally means a repudiation of debts besides, perhaps a terrible loss of life in the struggle for a commercial foothold.

America may be able to voluntarily help somewhere when it can be shown that it will really help but America would be powerless if bound to any League or any combination of nations whose aims and objects would necessarily be controlled by the selfish interests of international bankers.

The Chance of a Lifetime

To those who are so insistent that the United States cancel its European debts, Representative Edmonds, of Pennsylvania has presented a great opportunity. He has introduced a bill providing that any holders of Federal bonds who desire to do so may send them in marked for cancellation, a notation to be made thereon, or by letter, indicating in favor of which nation the cancellation is to be credited. The Treasury Department will follow the directions of the bondholders who surrender their bonds for this purpose, and they will be duly notified that their wishes have been carried out. There need be no rush. The whole matter can be handled in an orderly and expeditious manner. If you have a bond for $100, or for $10,000, just mail it to the Secretary of the Treasury to be canceled, telling him that it should be credited on the debt of England, France, or any nation which you so favor. Mr. Edmonds in his bill makes no provision for a special bureau to handle the flood of requests which his bill might occasion should it be enacted into law, nor has the secretary of the treasury deemed it necessary to organize such a bureau. The reason should be obvious to the most casual eye. Step up, cancellationists, and prove your sincerity.

Current Comment

Political Misplay

(Marion Chronicle)

The disposition on the part of the leaders of the Democratic party in the state legislature to haggle over the appropriation for a new reformatory at Pendleton is not creditable either to them or their party. Everybody knows that their opposition is not indulged in either with a view of saving the taxpayers money, or securing a better reformatory. What the Democratic leaders are hoping to do is to embarrass the administration of Governor McCray and improve the chances for the election of a Democratic governor in 1924. We are very much of the opinion that they are not playing good politics when they resort to work of this character. The taxpayers are not a lot of ignoramuses. They have intelligence enough to understand the situation and to discern the merits of Governor McCray's position in the building of the reformatory. We doubt if there is a man of any intelligence in the state, who is at all conversant with state politics, who does not recognize the fact that Governor McCray is a man singularly devoted to the best interests of the state and of such sterling honesty that there is no limit to which he cannot be trusted to do what is right in the discharge of his duties as Governor. Before the next gubernatorial election, the reformatory will have been completed and the matter in all details will be before the people. If the work has not been efficiently and economically done, that will be the proper time for the Democrats to raise a hue and cry over the matter. In the meantime, a sense of political self respect and a decent regard for the reputation of the state should lead them into co-operation with the governor in the building of the reformatory that will be a credit to the state. The day of small town politics in Indiana state legislature has gone by. Obstructionist tactics and political sidelay are not only unbecoming to the gentleman who constitute the legislature, but they are bound to create in the minds of the people an unfavorable impression.

OLD FAMILY DOCTOR AND THE OLD FAMILY HORSE

The poem that follows was written by Dr. J. T. Simpson of Holden, Missouri, an uncle of Mrs. Victoria Carter, 410 North Morgan street, in memory of his father, Dr. Solomon Simpson, grandfather of Mrs. Carter. Both men were well known among many older people in Rush county.

He was young and he was handsome, and his spirits were all proud; He had started with the boys to school but had far excelled the crowd;

Night and day he toiled and labored adding letters to his name, And the neighbors all expected many honors and much fame.

His ambition was for surgery 'tho he hated "cut and slash,"

So he let the fire burn dimer 'til it faded to an ash.

And he just became a practitioner of the kind we honor and we love.

And his practice kept on steady without the city push and shove.

Springtime ripened into fall time, fall time to winter black and bare, And 'round his high cut forehead came the silver to his hair.

He had waited on the lordly he had tended to the poor;

Relieved their pain when they were suffering, made their families safe and sure.

Not a call did he refuse them, tho it came in day or night;

His own health was all forgotten and his friends he'd never slight.

The only thing 'cept his family, was his horse that stayed real true, And over many miles they traveled and many bizzards they'd pulled through.

He would talk as to a human, "Come Old Charley, we must go;

I know you're tired, so am I old horse but we can take it slow."

Some little breath from heaven may be waiting to be born,

Or some weary, tired veteran may need courage for the morn."

And so the anxious waiting patients would listen at the door,

And welcome those swift hoof sounds they had heard so oft before.

Now the thing that was lacking in this life of sacrifice

Was the fact that most the people could not pay the price.

So the backs of these two partners nearly broke with toil and work, But they were always faithful, careful not to ever shirk,

'Til their limbs grew tired and weary and their feet would hardly go,

And the dear old doctor whispered, "Charley, we'll take it a little slow."

Young M. D.'s came and mounted the rugged road to fame,

But they never put a blemish on the country doctor's name;

For his life was one of honor and his death was Heaven's gain.

On a back lot in the village is a mound that no one knows,

Though beneath it sleeps the beast that saved many lives of those.

In the little family cemetery where the grasses wave and moan

Rests the tired heart from practice, in the last spot he calls home.

It's just the story of the life you've known so well of course,

For it's your Old Family Doctor and his Old Family Horse.

Indianapolis Next Month

Arlington is all set for the independent basketball tourney to be held at the gymnasium there, Friday and Saturday. Eight teams will try for honors as follows: Glenwood, Orange, New Salem, Fairview, Connersville, Moscow, Arlington Juniors, and the Arlington A. C.'s.

The first game will be played between New Salem and the Arlington Juniors Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. At 3:30 Friday afternoon Glenwood will meet Fairview. At night at 7:30 o'clock Moscow will play the Arlington A. C.'s and at 8:30 Connersville and Orange will clash.

On Saturday afternoon at two o'clock the winners of the first and second games of Friday afternoon will play for honors and the second game will be between the winners of the third and fourth games on Friday. This game will be played at three o'clock. The tourney will close at 8:30 o'clock Saturday night when the winners of the two afternoon games will battle for honors. The curtain raiser to this game will be between the Arlington high school girls and the New Salem girls.

The Homer Speed Kings had entered the tourney but withdrew and New Salem took their place. Most of the teams entered are evenly matched. The Connersville Anstead Engineering team is the one that will make the most trouble in the opinion of most fans and are expected to be hard to beat.

The Arlington Juniors claim they will be hard to beat also. No matter what the outcome may be, the series promises to be very interesting. There will be four sessions and those desiring to attend may obtain season tickets or single admission tickets.

The sectional tourney is one of several which is being held in the state during the next few weeks, and all of the sectional winners will go to the state tourney at Indianapolis in March.

Greensburg also is having a sectional this week. Rushville held one of the tourneys two years ago, when the Shelbyville Independent team won the meet.

RUSHVILLE TO PLAY ITS LAST HOME GAME

Fans Are Pulling For R. H. S. To Make Good Showing Against Garfield Of Terre Haute

HOPE FOR WHIRLWIND FINISH

The Rushville high school basketball quintet will play their last home game of the season here Friday night, meeting as their foe, the Garfield high school team of Terre Haute and in the preliminary game, the Hi seconds will teckle the Everton team.

Although the Rushville team has not made as good a showing this season as was expected at the start of the year, yet it is hoped that a whirlwind finish will be made. The Terre Haute team is rated in the Big Ten list, and has held third place for a long time. It will be recalled that they played the last game in the state tourney last spring, and were defeated by a few points by Franklin.

The fact that they were defeated last Friday night at Crawfordsville has caused the belief in basketball circles that the team has been over-rated this year. Rushville has been practicing hard and will put up a hard fight to win the last home game. The other two games on the schedule are at Anderson and Elwood, and the sectional tourney March 2 and 3 will close the local season.

Hittin' 'Em and Missin' 'Em

Just think, Hittin' 'em didn't get a Valentine all day yesterday.

Milroy high tackles Greensburg tonight. Bring home a branch from the court house tree, Milroy. Don't let Carthage get ahead of you.

MOSCOW SETS SAIL

Moscow sets sail tonight for the Tri-State tourney at Cincinnati. Someone said they would be home in time for dinner Friday. Now Moscow we'd show 'em that Elwood could be defeated, and upset all of that Big Ten stuff. Claim a berth on that ladder yourself.

THEY CAN'T WIN 'EM ALL

Richmond is now having highest hopes for defeating Bedford Saturday night. But even at that, all perfect records have to get smashed sometime. Here is what the Richmond paper says.

Richmond's basketball game number 20 likely will result in the first defeat of the 1922-23 season, for the team plays Bedford at the Stone City Saturday night, probably without the services of Muey, who was pronounced ineligible in his studies for this week.

OR ELWOOD EITHER

There is Elwood also with a perfect record, and going down to Cincinnati to get beat. It would do us a lot of good if Moscow would turn the trick, but if Moscow doesn't there will be others.

If riding on trains and cars from Terre Haute to Rushville in one afternoon wouldn't count ten points, Rushville had better cancel the game Friday night with Garfield.

EVEN IF OLD DOC COUE HAS GONE HOME, WHY NOT IMAGINE THAT HE IS WITH YOU FRIDAY NIGHT JUST LIKE HE WAS WHEN NEWCASTLE PLAYED HERE.

John Geraghty hasn't reported to us for over a week. We hate to wait until Webb wins a game before we hear from him.

Coch Means of Moscow is billed as referee tonight for the Milroy-Greensburg game. If he referees as good as he plays, he no doubt will please 'em all.

WHAT BECAME OF 'EM

Since that team of Rush county coaches got beat by a bunch of high school players, we haven't heard a thing about 'em.

HERE'S WHERE WE GET IT

Here's a letter that we received from "Anonymous", evidently written in Rushville, and mailed from Connersville. He gives his idea as to calling the Rushville team "Graham"—and his idea is clear away from what we have said, or what a few other fans have said, but we will let you hear him anyway. We don't care what he calls us—we're used to it:

Dear Mr. Hittin' 'em:

The writer happens to be an old Rushville High School Booster. At times it seems to him that you are an old High School Knocker. Anyway the question that I wish to bring up is that of changing the name of our High School Squad to Graham, instead of good old "R. H. S."

R. H. S. traditions; R. H. S. patriotism; Good R. H. S. boosters write at your thoughts, Mr. Hittin' 'em. Your stuff, at times, seems Bolshevikistic. The IDEA of as much as pondering over the thoughts of changing "Good Old R. H. S.'s" to any other just because some other school in the state thought of the silly idea first. If you wish to promote an Idea up there on North Perkins Street, let it anyway be original.

"Riled"! No! One like the writer, who once went to R. H. S., has pride in the memories of that school, under the name of R. H. S., and, as all other patriotic boosters, expulsi, etc., etc., is really hurt by your suggestions," of such changes.

Let's leave old R. H. S.'s name alone. She has nothing to be ashamed of, she never had, and Heaven's grant never will unless some disgruntled writer, ensconced behind some newspaper's sport sheet, might press such propaganda as to cause her name to be changed.

Yours truly,

ANONYMOUS

† † †

HERE'S OUR ANSWER

Does anyone here know anyone here that is going to school in Con-

nersville? We gotta hunch that we know who wrote the letter. The only thing we figure out is that the Connersville high school hasn't any name, equally as nice as the Graham high school. They call 'em ward schools over there. The Rushville high school was named after Prof. David Graham, and Hittin' 'em still maintains that it should be called after him, and every so-called high school booster, tradition or patriotism originating in the high school should be founded upon the principals laid down long ago by that "Grand Old Man". You say that you have pride in the memories of that school under the name of R. H. S., but while you were attending that school, you should have given it a second thought that such a school was made possible by David Graham. If you are such a Booster for the school, do you think that the founder of the institution had Bolshevikistic ideas, and surely if not, do you think that it would be Bolshevikistic to have the school name carried forward at all times, whether printed on the basketball jerseys, or inscribed in the minds of those who go out from the school each year, such as you said you have done. Hittin' 'em still says that the Graham High school is a good name, and why not use it?

High School Varsity Meets "Scrubs"
in a Practice Game

The local high school varsity squad came very near meeting their Waterloo Wednesday night in a practice game with a bunch of "scrub" players, when the final count was 22 to 21. The "scrubs" lined up Phillips and Cartmel of the regulars and Adams, Cooper and Christopher of the Merits. The high school team used Newbold, Hillgoss, McNamara, Walker, and some substitutes. The game was close all of the way, and furnished all members of the squad a good opportunity to have practice. The first half ended 21 to 16 in favor of the "scrubs". With only one minute to play, the scrubs were leading 21 to 20, but the varsity came through with the winning goal.

Have to Get Up Nights for Bladder Relief?

Try Simple Method This Dayton Man Reports Relieved Him Quickly

Mr. Wm. D. Ostermeyer, 326 E. Second St., says in his own home paper, the Dayton Daily News: "My bladder caused me to get up many times at night and also inconvenienced me as often as every 30 minutes in the day. After taking a few Lithiated Buchu (Keller formula) tablets my bladder is perfectly normal. They also relieved a very lame back for me. It gives me much pleasure to tell my friends about these little tablets."

Lithiated Buchu (Keller formula) acts on the kidneys and bladder like Epsom Salts do on the bowels. It cleans them out. It is not a patent medicine, as the formula is on the package. The tablets cost 2c each. The price makes it possible to place in the formula several high-priced drugs, which are useful for relief. Very likely you have never taken anything like this remedy. Try a few doses for backache, scalding, scanty or high-colored urine, and frequent desire at night.

You can get Lithiated Buchu (Keller formula) at Pitman & Wilson's and drug stores everywhere, or write The Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsburg, O.—Advertisement.

FLYING RECORD OF U. S. IS IN DANGER

America's Premier Aviators Are Preparing to Smash World's Endurance Record for Flying

Lieuts. MacReady and Oakley Kelley in Veteran T-2 Will Try to Out-do Record

(By United Press)

Dayton O. Feb. 15.—America's premier aviators are prepared to smash the world's endurance record for flying.

This month, weather permitting, Lieuts. John A. MacReady and Oakley Kelley, will mount the veteran T-2 in an authorized attempt to out-do their record of 35 hours, 18 minutes and fifteen seconds established in a flight over San Diego, Calif., last fall.

The California record as not recognized, as official American Aeronautical Association representatives were not present to observe and time the flight.

The trial next month will have the full authorization of the Army Air Service and official observers will be on hand, according to an announcement from McCook Field here.

During the flight, the wings of the T-2, the same plane in which the former endurance trial was made, will carry electric lights to distinguish it from any other plane that might be flying at night.

MacReady and Kelly will wear electrically warmed flying togs. They will alternate at the stick.

Thirty-four hours is the recognized world's endurance record, held by a French pilot.

"We intend to take along enough grub to last as long as 34 hours," Lieut. MacReady said. "Sandwiches and hot coffee, nothing fancy."

LOVE AT FIRST SIGHT

SURE SOMEBODY LOVES A FAT MAN

And Walter Hiers, chubby movie comedian, stopped off in New York for a few days to tell the big burg all about it. He was snapped just before leaving New York on a honeymoon trip with his bride, Mrs. Hiers, who was formerly Adah McWilliams, daughter of Charles R. Diego to Indianapolis in 27 hours and three minutes. It was an unsuccessful attempt at a non-stop transcontinental record.

The T-2 also was used in that trip which ended with engine trouble. The flight was unprecedented for horrifying experiences in the air.

Both pilots are determined, they said, to "take another crack at that coast to coast thing."

Besides his other distinctions, MacReady also is the holder of the world's altitude record—42,800 feet attained two years ago.

Officials at the field said the projected flight probably will be started unannounced, because of the uncertainty of weather conditions.

Income Tax Facts

Business expenditures are not always business expenditures within the meaning of the income tax law. For example, a merchant may build an addition to his warehouse at a cost of $100,000. This is a capital expenditure for an addition to his assets. Capital expenditures are not deductible.

Distinction is made between expenditures for an asset and expenditures in connection with an asset. If the merchant should, during the year spend $500 for repairs to his warehouse, such as painting the roof or replacing broken windows, he may deduct such amount as a business expense.

Medical, law or other professional books, machinery, tools, implements, or surgical instruments purchased by a taxpayer for use in his trade or profession, and which are a permanent character are capital assets and their cost is not allowed as a deduction. A farmer may not deduct the cost of a threshing machine or tractor, these being capital expenditures, but is allowed to deduct the cost of hoes, rakes, and small tools which are used up in course of a year or two in farm operation.

The purchase price of an automobile, even when used wholly for business or professional purposes, is not deductible, but is regarded as investment of capital. The cost of gasoline, repairs, and upkeep of an automobile is deductible if wholly used in business. If used partly for business and partly for the pleasure of convenience of the taxpayer, and his family, such cost should be apportioned accordingly.

DEVALERA ACCEPTS PLAN

Rebels To Cease Fighting And Leave Free State To A Plebiscite

London, Feb. 14.—Eamonn DeValera has accepted William Cosgrave's proposal that the rebels cease fighting and leave the question of Free State or republic to a plebiscite, according to the Daily Mail's Dublin correspondent. The Free State president advanced the suggestion in a recent interview with the United Press.

"Let England remove the threat of war and pledge herself to abide by the result of the plebiscite on the question of republic or Free State", DeValera replied, according to the Mail. We are willing to accept the result. Irishmen will never disestablish the republic and accept the treaty of their own will, if this question can be tested."

VALUABLE DOGS DIE

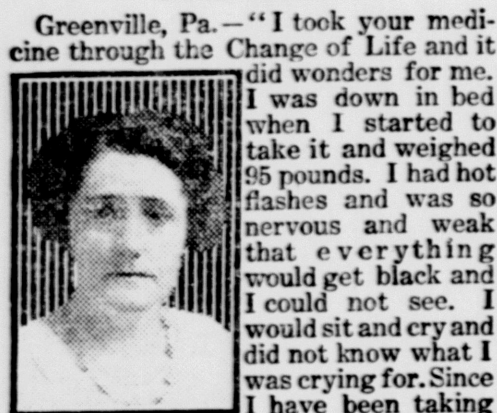

Seymour, Ind., Feb. 15.—A score of dogs have died here in the last two weeks, presumably from poison. Many of them were valued highly by their owners as hunters or watch dogs. James A. A new dog ordinance passed by the city council requires that policemen pick up all stray dogs and take them to the pound.

DAUGHERTY IS BETTER

For Women Who Rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Greenville, Pa. — "I took your medicine through the Change of Life and it did wonders for me. I was down in bed when I started to take it and weighed 95 pounds. I had hot flashes and was so nervous and weak that everything would get black and I could not see. I would sit and cry and did not know what I was crying for. Since I have been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel younger than I did ten years ago, and my friends all tell me I look younger. I owe it all to the Vegetable Compound. I do all my housework for a family of seven now, I will be glad to answer any woman who writes me in regard to my case." — Mrs. JOHN MYERS, 55 Union St., Greenville, Pa.

Many letters similar to this have been published testifying to the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They are sincere expressions from women who describe as best they can their feelings before and after taking this well-known medicine.

Many times they state in their letters their willingness to answer women who write them. It is an offer dictated by gratitude and a desire to help others.

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Feb. 15—Babe Ruth left New York last fall and went up into the farm country of New England full of resolutions and promises.

Senator "Jimmy" Walker, father of the Sunday basketball and the boxing laws, had told the Babe on the eve of his departure that "the dirty faced kids in the street" expected him to be back on his stride next season and the Babe left saying he would.

No efforts have been made to learn if the Babe was keeping his promise to "stay on the wagon," or if he had been chopping wood and plowing the fields, but the Swat King looks like he has been keeping all promises.

He has lost much of his waist line, his eyes are clear and he has the same spring in his walk that he had in 1921, when he was stepping up, hitting 'em and running around the bases.

Ruth says he is going to make a new record next season and if he gets away good in the first week and gets back some of that old confidence, Babe will have a big year and so will baseball.

The hardest thing in keeping a heavyweight stable is keeping 'em heavy, according to James Joy Johnston, the "Boy Bandit" and the champion gatherer of heavyweight hopes.

"They gotta be fed to keep 'em heavyweights and they won't do anything for their feed."

James Joy says Jimmy Dougherty, the Baron of Philadelphia, has had the same experience.

The Baron has in charge a huge colored heavyweight, George Godfrey. George hasn't had a bout in months and he hasn't missed a meal. He earned some money recently acting as a sparring partner in New York with Floyd Johnson.

When he got back to Philadelphia he didn't have a cent. But he did have a new steamer trunk with his name on it, a pair of white spats, a high hat and three canes.

has achieved and yet admits that he can be beaten, he is still a mighty dangerous antagonist and should be treated with all the respect due to a stick of dynamite.

In a recent letter Charlie outlined several of his plans for the near future.

"I never felt better in my life than I do now," he stated. "But whether I can run or not, is another question. You know sprinters are never in a position to answer that question until they have a few races under their belt. My first meet comes on February 17 in the Annual Southern California relay championships. I will try out in the relay."

"I run against California a month later in Los Angeles; Stanford a week after that, and then the following week I run in Berkeley against California and three days later in Palo Alto against Stanford. These are annual return meets. Afterwards comes the final A. A. U. meet here and then for the east and the Penn relays and afterwards the intercollegiate, providing, of course, that I am still able to make the team."

There is no reason to believe that Paddock has lost any of his speed since the Olympics and all his recent records go to show that he is a faster man now than he was at that time. Therefore, whether Paddock is at his best or not upon his arrival here, it will be a big feather in the cap of any sprinter who leads him to the tape.

McAllister, Murchison and Leoney at present look to be his logical opponents. McAllister, who has been discovered and developed in the last year, has not reached the peak of his speed yet, even though he bears the enviable title of junior and senior national one hundred yard champion. Murchison seems to be running as fast as ever and his famous start is still a thing to take the heart out of the best of them.

Leoney, although he has covered himself with much glory in collegiate circles, is still more or less of an unknown quantity. He has registered some mighty fast time and beaten some good men, but he has still to meet several of the top liners, including McAllister and Murchison, in various distances and to kick cinders in the faces of some of the veterans, who have proved such obstacles in the path of aspiring youngsters during the last several years.

In the case of Laoney, the National Championships held at Newark last year cannot be taken as an example of his ability. Laoney we believe had reached the peak of his form early in the season and later in the fall experienced the same encounter when they attempt a return to form and do not have access to the facilities to which they have been accustomed at school. It usually takes a college man a couple of seasons at least to acclimate himself to the different, and less intensive systems of training encountered in the athletic clubs.

100. WAYS To Make Money

By BILLY WINNER

If I Were a Plumber—

FIRST of all, I would want to be a good plumber. Next, I would see to it that the families in my territory knew that I was a good plumber.

I would have things fixed so that when Smith's radiator developed a leak, Smith would call for me. When Mason's sink became stopped up, I would be the plumber Mason would call on the job. When anything in my line went wrong, I would be the man called in to do the repairing.

I would tell the families in my neighborhood about the service I had to sell with the help of Daily Republican Want Ads. When anything goes wrong with the plumbing, the easiest, most natural thing to do is to grab the ever-ready Daily Republican and look in the Want Ad Section for a plumber; and there would be my Want Ad to direct buyers of plumbing to me.

Easy to Darken Your Gray Hair

YOU CAN BRING BACK COLOR AND LUSTRE WITH SAGE TEA AND SULPHUR

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. At little cost you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger.

THREE BANKERS TO CONTROL ARMOURS

Fifty-one Percent of Common Stock of Gigantic Packing Concern Has Been Truited

RECENT RECAPITALIZATION

Trusteeship Was Decided Upon as One of Moves Necessary to Recoup Losses of Millions

Chicago, Feb. 15.—Three Chicago and New York bankers will control the affairs of Armour and Company the next five years, it was learned.

Fifty-one percent of the common stock of the gigantic packing concern has been truted. The following men will be the voting trustees of this stock:

Samuel McRoberts, chairman former treasurer of Armour and company, now president of the Metropolitan Trust Company of New York.

Arthur Reynolds, president of the Continental and Commercial bank, Chicago.

Albert H. Wiggin, president of the Chase National Bank, New York.

Formal announcement of the trusteeship control will be announced following the annual meeting of the board of directors, February 20. At the same time it is expected the purchase by Armour of Morris and company will be announced.

The trusteeship was the result of recent recapitalization of the company.

J. Ogden Armour will remain chairman of the board of directors.

The trusteeship was decided upon as one of the moves necessary to recoup losses of millions of dollars by the concern during the post ward deflation period.

Since the establishment of Armour and Company, control has wrested with P. D. Armour, the founder, or J. Ogden Armour, his son, who holds approximately 80 percent of the stock.

It is believed Armour will be elected chairman of the executive committee, charged with actual conduct of the business. The banking committee however, will have control of the firm's finances and probably will name the majority of the board of directors.

The absorption of Morris and company was reported practically completed. The purchase price was declared to be approximately $30,000,000.

An Outstanding Achievement

All motor cars may, with one exception, be divided into two classes.

There is the class of cars built to a price, and there is the class built regardless of price.

In the first, quality is sacrificed;—in the second, value.

The exception referred to is the Hupmobile,—a car which any experienced, independent garage mechanic will tell you is as finely built, in all the essentials, as any fine car; and which is priced so low as to make it, in our opinion, the greatest motor car value in the world.

ANOTHER BUBBLE BURST

Opening Grave Of Seaman Failed To Locate The Romanoff Jewels

New York, Feb. 15.—Another Russian jewel bubble burst forth here Wednesday when William Williams, United States treasury agent opened the grave of James Jones at Cypress Hills Cemetery but failed to find the Romanoff jewels.

Persistent rumors that smugglers had hidden $4,000,000 worth of Russian jewels in Jones' casket, while the former United States seaman was being brought back to this country for burial, caused the treasury department at Washington to issue orders that the grave be opened.

The grave had been guarded for a week by a squad of soldiers. Wednesday the guard was tripled, every entrance to the cemetery was blocked by soldiers with fixed bayonets and every precaution taken as the coffin was opened. There were no jewels inside.

MANY CATTLE ARE TESTED

Almost 12,000 Head Given Tubercular Test in St. Joseph County

South Bend, Ind., Feb. 15.—A total of 11,721 head of cattle were tested for tuberculosis in St. Joseph county last year, 10,233 being given the initial test and 1,488 the first semi-annual test, according to figures announced today by County Agent E. C. Bird, who directed the work with the co-operation of the county farm bureau. The testing was done by nine months by Dr. C. T. Howard, federal veterinarian.

Ninety percent of the cattle tested were tested under the area plan. That is, all the cattle in a certain area were tested while the inspector was in that area. Local farm bureau members arranged the schedule.

Several percent or 737 were found tubercular. The retest showed only one half of one percent tubercular. A total of 1,210 herds were tested.

With the mercury hovering near zero, Frank Beeraft, livopened a sugar water camp and reports the flow to be good.

Ten gallons of maple molasses were made Wednesday while the wind was blowing a gale and the thermometer showed only a few degrees above zero.
Other camps will be operating, it is predicted, as soon as the present cold snap passes.

The coldest temperature recorded for 1923 was registered during the night, when the mercury fell to 4 degrees above zero, according to the thermometer in charge of Elwood Kirkwood, county weather observer, at Mauzy. The previous low record made for the winter was in December, when a few points below zero had been reached.

The predictions for the next 24 hours is that the mercury will con-will be cloudy with rising tempera-regardless of the slowly rising tem-

The mercury here registered the Peoria, Ill., also reported 2 below, while at Cincinnati it was reported

BUILDINGS AS A MEMORIAL

A Rush county organization to promote the interests of the Indiana University Memorial fund has begun functioning and will close the campaign for contributions in the county with a reunion and dinner for alumni and former students of the state university. The exact date for the reunion has not been fixed.

The committee met Wednesday night at the Mauzy company store and laid plans for the campaign. The committee is composed of Louis Mauzy chairman, Mrs. A. L. Gary, Lee Endres, Mrs. Roy Harold, Dr.
Lowell M. Green, Miss Phyllis Dean and Miss Mary Williams.

The committee has the names of 130 alumni and former students of the Bloomington institution, who live in Rush county.

The memorial will be in the form of a group of new buildings at the university and the goal of the campaign is $1,600,000. The buildings will consist of a dormitory, athletic stadium and Union building. They will be erected as a memorial to the

Threat of Filibuster Against Army Bill Leads President to Take Different Position

$56,000,000 "PORK" IN BILL

By LAWRENCE MARTIN
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Feb. 15.—Threat by certain members of congress to defeat the army bill unless President Harding disavowed his intention of curtailing expenditures authorized by it, resulted today in the administration changing its attitude.

The president had let it be known that of the $56,000,000 the bill provides for rivers and harbors, only $27,000,000—the amount fixed by the budget bureau—be spent.

Then congressmen who wanted to spend the full amount announced they would filibuster against the bill unless the president agreed not to interfere with the expenditure. Such a filibuster would heat the bill and leave the war department without funds. The administration modified its previous stand and let it be known that only useless expenditures would be opposed.

One Of Counties Awarded Pennant
For Showing Made In 1922 Christmas Seals Campaign

BASED ON PER CAPITA SALES

Rush County Represented By Three Women At State Tuberculosis Association Meeting

Rush county ranked sixth place in the state in the percentage of sales per capita in the Christmas Seals campaign in 1922, it was announced Wednesday at the annual meeting of the State Tuberculosis Association, and the Rush county association was awarded a pennant for the good showing made in the drive.

The Rush county organization was represented at the state meeting by Mrs. T. M. Green, Miss Anna Boh-annon and Miss Laura Trussler.

The seal campaign in Rush county was conducted by the Psi Iota Xi sorority and the quota was placed at $1,800, and was surpassed by a few dollars. The showing made by Rush county in the state is regarded as excellent, and speaks highly of the workers.

Bartholmew county headed the state and the per capita sales, and their percent was 13.1; Allen county ranked second with 10.8; Fountain county third with 10.5 percent; Marion county, fourth with a percent of 9.7; Vanderburg county fifth, with 9.4 per cent and Rush county had 9.3 percent.

The showing made by Rush county this year was higher than last, because the quota was placed at a higher mark than in previous years.
The pennant given to Rush county for the good record will probably be displayed in a day or so in a downtown show window.

(Special to the Daily Republican.)

Newcastle, Ind., Feb. 15.—Harry Rainey of Rushville and Edgar Flenor of Muncie, were each fined $50 and costs amounting to $80, in police court here Wednesday afternoon before Mayor Morris on a charge of violating the prohibition laws. The two men were jailed about midnight Tuesday, and the automobile in which they were riding was turned over to the owners of a factory in Muncie. The Muncie man paid his fine, Rainey was still confined in jail this morning, but was making an effort to secure his release.

The Rushville man referred to above was said to have obtained his release by paying the fine according to several people today, who said they saw him in this city this afternoon.

ship Institute at Carthage

Ripley Township Farmers and Their Wives Pleased With Revival of Annual Event Wednesday

The first farmers' institute held in Ripley township for several years drew to a close at the Carthage Auditorium Wednesday afternoon and this morning the annual joint institute for Union township, Rush county, and Fairview township, Fayette county, opened at the Fairview school building at 9:30 o'clock. The Ripley township institute closed with the election of officers and the announcement of the awards in the exhibits.

Mrs. William Goldsmith and W. H.
Senour were the speakers on the joint institute program today. Mrs.
Goldsmith spoke this morning on "Poultry Keeping For Profit" and this afternoon on "Economy, Efficiency and Enjoyment in the Home".
The address by Mr. Senour this morning was on theme, "Farm Wastes", and this afternoon his subject was "Purpose in Education."

A program was carried out by the Fairview Township Farmers association at the school building Wednesday night, as a preliminary to the institute.

All exhibits in the corn show and ladies department were to be in judges arrived early this morning to begin placing the premiums. Joe judge and a woman from the domestic science department of Purdue university was the judge in the la-ton and a selection by a male quartette was on the program this morning and this afternoon the entertainment features were a musical number by the Misses Gladys and Helen Downs and a piano duet by the Misses Mariam Fry and Lucile Beeson.

The successful revival of the farmers' institute at Carthage was the source of much gratification on the part of Ripley township people. The ladies of the Ripley Country Club joined with the Ripley Township Farmers' association in boosting the institution and making it a success.

At the close of the afternoon session yesterday, new officers were elected and preparations made for even a better meeting next year.

Harry Bentley was elected president; Luther Gibson, vice-president;

Henley, treasurer; chairman of exhibits committee, Earl Sears of the farmers' association and Mrs. Jesse Henley of the Country Club; vice-

Washington, Feb. 15.—Col. C. R.
Forbes, director of the veterans bureau, placed his resignation in President Harding's hands before he left for Europe two weeks ago, Senator James Watson of Indiana, said

President Harding has in mind as possible successor to Forbes "three men who served in the trenches", one of whom he will eventually designate, Watson said.

Public Service Commission Remains in Tact When House Rejects The Clapp Bill

TO ABOLISH SERVICE BOARD

Senate Kills Bill Which Sought to do Away With Pension System For School Teachers

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 15.—Following senate endorsement of the public service commission, the state of representatives today rejected the Clapp bill which would have abolished the utility body and reestablished the railroad commission.

Clapp's measure was designed to repeal the law creating the service commission and restore its power over local utilities to cities, except jurisdiction over railroads which would have been vested in the railroad commission.

The senate debated the efforts to abolish the system of pensioning school teachers and finally killed the bill carrying provisions for such a step. It rejected the minority committee report recommending that the bill be passed by a vote of 10 to 32, and the report of the committee majority recommending indefinite postponement was adopted.

The measure was presented jointly by Senators King, Hartzell, Holmes and Harmon.

The pension system would stabilize the teaching profession, Senator Henley said in speaking against the bill. "It encourages those that decate their lives to the teaching profession."

A bill which would extend the limit of ages to eighteen years for the girls working six hours a day, was introduced by Representative Thiel.
The age limit is now fourteen to sixteen years. Thiel also introduced a bill which would prohibit employment of women and girls between hours of eleven p. m. and six p. m.

Persons proven guilty of neglect of duty, mal-administration, or any criminal offense, could be removed from public office, by circuit court on petition of five electors, under a bill introduced by Representative Ogden.

Any person between the ages of twenty-one and thirty-two years, having lived in Indiana for a period of five years or more and having attended high school for a year or more, would be permitted to complete their high school course in a

Home Of Alva Junkin Fills With Smoke And Firemen Are Unable To Locate Supposed Fire

REQUEST BY THE FIRE CHIEF

A stove pipe attached to a coal stove at the home of Alva Junkin, 223 East Sixth street, fell down Wednesday afternoon shortly before four o'clock, and filled the house with smoke. The fire department was notified, but no loss was incurred.

Fire Chief Williamson today stated that people who telephone alarms to the station, should direct the firemen to the house by giving the street number, and the name of the occupant. A misunderstanding yesterday took the firemen on a joy ride, as they were unable to find the house, although they passed it twice, and no one signalled them. All three divisions answered the call, which was the second run for the day.

The department should be called in all cases where there is any danger. An investigation of smoke by the firemen may often times prevent a serious loss and the department would rather do the investigating than to take any chance of having fire break out. Flues burning out may cause roof fires, unless they are closely watched. In all cases, it is important, that the firemen be given proper directions over the telephone, the fire chief stated.

POLICE WARNING OF FLEEING GAME

Residents Of East Eighth Street
Notify Authorities Of Practices Of Cora Fields Jackson

COMPELLED TO RETURN MONEY

Police issued a warning today to people of Rushville, regarding a fleeing game which was called to their attention Wednesday afternoon by residents of East Eighth street.
Cora Fields Jackson, the police say was making the rounds of the neighborhood and putting up a hard luck story under an alias of groceries was purchased at a store in that vicinity, and she is said to have given a fictitious name. The police traced her down in the afternoon, and was compelled to refund all donations which she had obtained by telling false stories, and the groceries also were returned. Several people registered a complaint before she was apprehended.

Minor Matters Taken Up In Circuit Court When Case Scheduled For Trial Is Postponed

A few minor court matters were being taken care of today in the circuit court when the case scheduled for trial before a jury was postponed. The jury will not be called into service until next Tuesday for trial. Henry W. Beckner, administrator has filed against Elmira Miller et al., in a petition to sell real estate in order to pay off debts against the estate. A similar suit has been filed by Curtis Geise, an administrator against Mary Linville, and others, in order to secure permission to sell real estate to pay debts involved in the estate of Martha Looney.

Lillie Myers has filed a suit in the nature of a claim against the estate of William B. Martin, in which James

mand of the plaintiff is for $44.11 on her claim.

A citation has been ordered by the court for the arrest of Gifford Cook morning, and show why he should not be punished for contempt of court.

The citation was ordered by his divorced wife, Marie Cook, for failure to comply with an order on allowance

RETIREMENT OF ARMY MAN IS A SENSATION

Maj. Gen. Cronkhite's Prosecution of Those Thought Guilty of His Son's Murder Believed Cause

(By United Press)

Washington, Feb. 15.—A sensation has been caused in military circles here by the forced retirement from the army of the Major General Cronkhite, formerly in command of the third corps area. Cronkhite whose son, Major Alexander P. Cronkhite is alleged to have been murdered at Camp Lewis in Washington in 1918, has written a strong letter of protest directly to President Harding, it was learned here today.

Ever since his son's death, the general has been conducting a vigorous campaign to force the prosecution of those guilty of the crime.

Charges of Cronkhite that his efforts have been hampered by high officials here were believed to have been the cause of his involuntary retirement. The general has reached the age of sixty-two years when the president can retire an officer against his wishes.

French Miners Approve General

BELGIAN MINERS WALK OUT

German Leaders Point Out France Has Only About 2 Per Cent of What She Might Have Had

(By United Press)

France was balked today in her battle for coal—in which she threw 100,000 men and a billion francs into the Ruhr—when French miners approved a general strike to start tomorrow morning and left the pits.

The strike and a simultaneous walkout of Belgian miners was stated to have no connection with the Ruhr situation but Germany took heart at the occurrence. German leaders pointed out that France, during her month's occupation of the Ruhr, has secured about two per cent of what coal she would have received had she stayed away.

M. LeTroquo, minister of public works began his appeal for British co-operation before Bonar Law and Lords Curzon and Derby at Downing street. The French minister asked Britain to let fine trains, troop manned pass through Cologne.

The French government hopes to confine the coal strike to the Loire valley since all miners associations will not go out.

London, Feb. 15.—France's appeal to Great Britain to make the seizure of the Ruhr effective as far as coal seizure is concerned was placed before the British cabinet by Minister of Public Works LeTroquo.

The French want to run trains loaded with coal that has been seized in the Ruhr pits through Rhine territory occupied by British troops.
This applies particularly to the city of Cologne.

The British have no objection to the trains passing through Cologne except that they are manned by French troops and carry German hostages. This, it is felt, constitutes a breach of Britain's sovereignty in the occupied zone.

SHOULD GO TO WAR IF IT IS NECESSARY

Opinion of Senator Reed of Missouri Democrat, Regarding Collection of Foreign Loans

(By United Press)

Washington, Feb. 15.—If necessary this country should go to war to collect the money borrowed by foreign governments, Senator Reed, Missouri democrat, declared today in a fiery speech in the senate on the British debt funding bill.

Assailing Great Britain and those who believed the United States ought to be lenient with its debtors, Reed said:

"I have been asked how we are going to get our money. One way is to have enough nerve to demand it.
If we can not get it that way then
I would get it in the way other nations get theirs from weaker nations.
I have in mind some possessions of other nations not far from our shores which could be taken within twenty-four hours. I would get the money in the way it has been done through the countless centuries—by insisting on it and if necessary enforcing our rights."

Reed said in his opinion forcible measures would not be needed believing that payments would be made if the United States demanded it.
"Much of this talk about conditions across the sea," he said, "reminds men of the class of people called 'gimme girls'. They are girls who always want to get something. Looks like we were in an 'International gimme game and we are to do all the giving."

bill introduced by Senator Brown.
A bill introduced by Senator Buchanan which would require the teaching of the United States constitution in Indiana schools failed when the senate adopted a committee report recommending its indefinite postponement.

Dr. J. N. Hurty, withdrew his second bill for the reorganization of the state board of health because of opposition to the bill, which differed little from the first.

Indications pointed today toward lifting of the war-time ban against teaching of the German language in Indiana schools.

The state senate received a bill passed by the house of representatives late yesterday 63 to 28, to permit the teaching of German in high schools.

Amendments designed to kill the bill were defeated. A similar bill permitting the teaching of German in elementary schools is pending.

The bennial fight over limiting working hours for women raged again last night in hearing before the senate committee on labor. The hearing was on the Holmes bill which would limit the employment of women in most work to fifty hours a week.

Interested persons on both sides of the question appeared before the committee and stated their cases. Friends of the measure said that Indiana and Iowa are the only two northern states that do not limit the working hours of women.

Charges of bribery which sprang up in the house a few days ago in connection with the appropriation bill apparently had died down. Members of the democratic minority ignored the challenge of republicans to prove the charges that certain democrats had been offered $1,000 to deliver five democratic votes for the measure.

perts today laid before the government a plan whereby Britain's objections could be overcome. Details were not at first made public but the French were optimistic of securing Bonar Law's approval.

By WEBB MILLER
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Paris, Feb. 15.—French and Belgian miners quit work by the thousands today in a strike over wages. While the general strike declared by the French Miners Federation does not start officially until tomorrow morning, workers at many pits stopped as soon as word of the plan reached them. Several thousand Belgian workers walked out at Guesmes in connection with a nation-wide demand for a 5 percent increase in wages.

The National council of Federated Miners of France has thus far refrained from joining the strike in this country. This is welcomed by operators as a favorable sign but L'Eclair admits a majority of miners in the Loire valley will walkout tomorrow.

The strike is expected to be partially effective in the Nord while the Pas de Calais and the Anzin coal basins await Saturday's interview with employers at Douai.

The French press today expressed fear that Germany would interpret the coal strike as encouragement of resistance in the Ruhr. The petit Parisienne appeals to the patriotism of the workers not to give the Germans this much hope.

Mine Only 52,000 Tons of Coal

Berlin, Feb. 15.—France and Belgium have obtained but 52,000 tons of coal since occupation of the Ruhr over a month ago.

The German government calls attention to comparison between this total and two million tons delivered those countries as reparations in the month of December.

Southwest Hard Hit
Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 15.—A cold wave gripped the southwest today as storm warnings were sent out for the Texas coast.

In Oklahoma continued drop in temperature since yesterday resulted in near zero weather today.

Kansas reported temperatures around the zero mark.

Cold Grips Middle West

Chicago, Feb. 15.—The mid-west was in the grip of the coldest weather of the winter today.

The weather bureau predicted the thermometer would fall to ten degrees below zero in Chicago before night.

Three deaths from freezing and more than 150 fires were reported during the last 24 hours.

Train service northward was badly crippled and trains on several lines were stalled in isolated sections.

Relief societies rushed food and coal to hundreds of needy families.

The cold will continue until Sunday the weather bureau reported.

Blizzard Hits New York

New York, Feb. 15.—A cold wave bringing zero temperatures was swept into the east by high winds today.

New York City was lashed by a 27 mile gale. Several persons were injured by broken glass and falling signs. A plate glass window was blown into the grill room of the Hotel McAlpine late last night, scattering diners, but none was hurt.

A blizzard raged over northern New York the last 24 hours bringing a snow blockade in some parts that demoralized traffic.

Southern States Affected

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 15.—The coldest weather of the winter swept the east today.

Ushered in by a thirty mile wind, temperatures began to drop late yesterday and this morning were the lowest of the year, the weather bureau announced.

Florida was the only southeastern state to escape the wave. Jacksonville reported a temperature of 44 degrees which is unusual winter weather there. Atlanta shivered with 26 degrees; Meridian, Miss., reported 34 and Macon, Ga., the same.

Syracuse.—A cash prize has been offered by the Syracuse Commercial club for the most appropriate slogan for the town submitted by any citizen.

Lewisville.—Residents here say spring is just around the corner after having seen a robin and a flock of wild geese flying north.

I am the mother of three children and have found "Mother's Friend" the best thing I ever used. It is externally applied about the abdomen, back and hips. It penetrates wonderfully, and in this way allows the muscles and ligaments to relax easily and readjust themselves to the changes during pregnancy and at child-birth.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

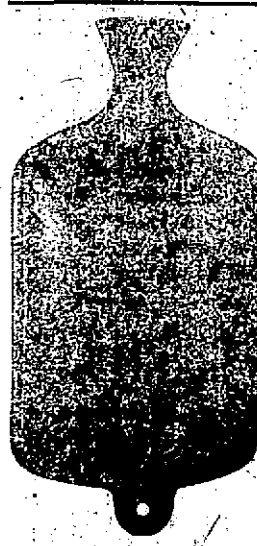

Thousands Have Discovered
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

VOTE HOPED FOR FRIDAY

No Roll Call Will be Necessary on Debt Settlement Bill

(By United Press)

Washington, Feb. 15—Agreement to vote on the British debt settlement late Friday was hoped for by senate leaders today. Such an agreement will be proposed when the senate meets today.

Senator Reed of Missouri who yesterday spoke for more than an hour against the settlement will resume his attack today. Reed intended to speak four or five hours.

The votes in opposition to the settlement are dwindling so that it appeared today on the final passage of the bill no roll call will be necessary, though Reed or some other hostile senator probably will demand.

"If a man write a better book or preach a better sermon or build a better mousetrap Tho he live in the depth of the forest The world will beat a path to his door." —Emerson.

25 years ago a small druggist—in a small town—discovered a new way—an "external" way—to treat colds. So Vicks was born.

And for a quarter of a century, in ever increasing numbers, the world has beaten a path to its door.

Until today more than 17 million jars go out yearly to serve the people of this land.

How To Apply Vicks To Help Avoid These Infections
How To Use Vicks In Case You Are Attacked

DEEP, grippy colds — frequently leading into pneumonia—have been unusually prevalent this winter. Some authorities insist that they are a form of influenza, not so virulent as the influenza during the first epidemic, though they are worse than ordinary colds.

Most medical authorities now agree that these troubles are germ diseases—commonly spread by breathing in the germs. If the system is in good shape—the membrane of the air passages in a healthy condition—these germs do not ordinarily breed.

Keep a little Vicks rubbed up the nostrils at all times, particularly when exposed to crowds. At night melt Vicks in a spoon and inhale the vapors, or better still, use Vicks in a teakettle as directed below. This treatment helps to keep the air passages in good condition.

The Danger Is From Pneumonia.

The chief danger lies in the development of pneumonia. What is needed, therefore, is something to decrease the congestion of the lungs. For this purpose there is nothing like a rubefacient or counter-irritant, as witness the use of blisters, poultices and plasters for many generations. This irritation reddens the skin—draws the blood from the congested parts to the surface; the circulation is improved; there is a sensation of warmth and the possibility of pneumonia is greatly lessened.

A "Quick" Rubefacient Needed.

The value of this counter-irritant effect is greatly increased if it is produced quickly. Nearly every family has its favorite method—onion poultices, turpentine stapes, mustard plasters and poultices of various kinds—all are good.

A very simple method is to apply towels wrung out in hot water, as hot as the patient can stand. This not only reddens

the skin quickly, but also opens the pores so that more Vicks can be absorbed. Some, however, prefer to use an ordinary mustard plaster, as the reddening effect lasts longer.

Get Skin Thoroughly Red.

Whatever method is used, the application should be applied over the throat and chest until the skin is thoroughly reddened. In very deep colds, the sides and especially the back from the middle of the shoulder blades to a point just above the waist, should also be treated.

The patient should be given a good purgative and, if convenient, a hot mustard footbath for ten minutes—one tablespoon of mustard to a gallon of water.

Then Massage With Vicks

After the skin is thoroughly reddened, it should be dried lightly and immediately the patient should be given a brisk massage with Vicks all over the parts. Continue this for five minutes. This increases the counter-irritant effect. Then apply Vicks thickly over all the parts; that is, spread it on as you would a poultice—about one-sixteenth of an inch thick or more—and cover with two thicknesses of hot flannel cloths.

Vick's Double Action

Thus applied Vicks has a double action. First, Vicks is so made that the body heat gradually releases the ingredients in the form of vapors. The more Vicks applied, the stronger will be the vapors and the longer these vapors will last. The night clothing should always be loose around the neck and the bed clothes arranged in the form of a funnel. These vapors being lighter than air, rise up from the chest and, if the bed clothing is properly arranged, pass by the nose and mouth and are thus inhaled with each breath, carrying the medication directly through the air passages to the lungs.

The second action of Vicks is external—by absorption through and stimulation of the skin.

Repeat Treatment.

When the vapors begin to lose their strength, fresh Vicks should be applied over the throat and chest. This to keep up the continuous supply of vapors. When the redness of the skin dies out, all the Vicks remaining should be wiped off and the entire treatment repeated. That is, the hot wet towels or mustard plaster should be used until the skin is again thoroughly reddened, then massage with Vicks, spread on thickly and cover with hot flannels, just as previously done.

Steam and Vapor Method.

Sometimes when the patient is badly choked up, the vapors from the application on the chest are not sufficient to make the breathing easier. In these cases drop a tablespoonful of Vicks into a kettle of boiling water and allow the patient to inhale the warm steam and vapors combined for about 10 minutes. Do this several times a day if needed. Keep the water boiling and put in additional Vicks whenever the vapors decrease. Put a sheet over the patient and the tea-kettle, making a kind of a tent.

Take no chances with these grippy colds. Remember, Vicks must be used freely to be effective—and always call a doctor.

Beautiful views of Europe's most fashionable water resort; an absorbing murder trial; colorful action at a fine country estate, and Gloria Swanson in an interesting array of brand new Paris gowns, are announced as high lights of "The Impossible Mrs. Bellew," a new Paramount picture which will be seen at the Princess.

"The Impossible Mrs. Bellew" was adapted by Percy Heath from a novel by David Lisle. It tells of what happens when an innocent wife's reputation is purposely blackened by an unscrupulous lawyer in order to save her worthless husband from conviction of a charge of murder. Becoming a social pariah as "The Impossible Mrs. Bellew," Miss Swanson flees from America to Europe, where the story runs through a gamut of interesting sequences to a romance of which she has been deprived.

Director, Sam Wood assembled a capable cast for the support of Miss Swanson. Robert Cain is the husband who causes all the trouble, while Conrad Nagel plays opposite the star in the role of a novelist. Mickey and Pat Moore are seen in sympathetic kiddie roles, while other well-known players, include Richard Wayne, June Elville, Herbert Standing, Helen Dunbar, Arthur Hull and Clarence Burton.

It is pointed out that "The Impossible Mrs. Bellew" will have an especial appeal to women, as Miss Swanson wears several choice gowns brought direct from Paris by the star.

At The Mystic Friday

Herbert Rawlinson comes to the screen of the Mystic theatre on Friday in a Universal film-play entitled "Another Man's Shoes." The story is one well known to book lovers, for Victor Bridges' novel of that name has been pretty widely read.

Behind Rawlinson's effort in this forthcoming feature stands a director who has been associated with him several times in the past—Jack Conway. Conway directed one of Rawlinson's first successes a few years ago, "Come Through!" and its later version of the past few months, "Don't Shoot!" He also directed some of Universal's other ventures that have scored successes recently, including the one in which Henry B. Walthall, Ralph Grayes and Marjorie

THE ROAD TO WANT—He that oppresseth the poor to increase his riches, and he that giveth to the rich shall surely come to want.—Prov. 22: 16.

Collapse of Europe

A collapse of European civilization, such as the world has never known, may be the result of France's action in the Ruhr.

Every nation in Europe is really bankrupt—and yet every nation is preparing for war and six of them are actually fighting.

With Ireland, India and Egypt mulling and mulling in unrest, with Turkey holding a big stick and liable to strike at any moment, England is facing the most critical period in her history—and no allies to call upon. They all have troubles of their own.

Japan is an unknown quantity in this political maelstrom. There is no secret as to the fact that Japan has an old score to balance with England because of the disastrous settlements the latter compelled Japan to accept as victors in the wars with China and with Russia. If the opportunity offers Japan will drive a hard bargain with England in an effort to establish protection on the mainland.

The Balkan States are all on edge ready to strike at each other or anyone else.

Russia sits tight and seems to be as well situated as most of the nations.

Italy is making a desperate struggle to pull through after its bloodless revolution, and may do so if not

dragged into the war that now seems inevitable.

France has been spending the money she expected to receive from Germany and, besides maintaining an enormous army and an enormous pension, has contracted indebtedness in double the amount of her possible income, exclusive of her indebtedness to Great Britain and the United States.

Germany, with the Ruhr and Alsace gone, is at the end of the road. She can hardly produce sufficient to maintain her own inhabitants, while the reparation claims call for payments of over $2,000,000 per day for the next fifty years.

The collapse of Germany means the collapse of Europe.

It is estimated that it will take one hundred years for England, France and Germany to pay their existing war debts and interest, if paid at the rate of a million dollars per day each.

As a result of the recent conference regarding the refunding of England's debt to the United States, it is admitted that if all the European debts were cancelled by America, and as much more advanced, it would not help much—in fact it is a question if it would accomplish anything more than to finance another and greater war, that is now being prepared for.

Unemployment, starvation and stagnation stalk the nations of the old world while statesmen flounder in an endless circle. To this date all efforts to solve the problem that seriously threatens a collapse of European civilization has been based on the measure of values instead of the measure of virtue. International money-lenders have become so involved that it appears to be their fight—a fight against each other, a fight in which governments and men are simply pawns for the promoters. That has been the education of European statesmen and rulers—and America will do well to give heed.

The greatest handicap to any solution of the situation is the existence of so many little states or governments, each with its own money systems, tax systems, debts, conflicting laws and regulations, each fighting the other, and heretofore encouraged and financed by the big fellows. Greece and Turkey are good illustrations of this fact and its results.

The only real, logical, lasting solution of old-world problem seems to be in the United States of Europe, formed after the plan of the United States of America. The biggest obstacle to that proposition, however, is the various debts to the money-lenders. The payment of principal and interest would confiscate the surplus production of Europe for the next three generations under the most favorable circumstances.

The alternative presents a very dark picture. Men get hungry they know no law and revolution results. Revolution generally means a repudiation of debts besides, perhaps a terrible loss of life in the struggle for a commercial foothold.

America may be able to voluntarily help somewhere when it can be shown that it will really help but America would be powerless if bound to any League or any combination of nations whose aims and objects would necessarily be controlled by the selfish interests of international bankers.

The Chance of a Lifetime

To those who are so insistent that the United States cancel its European debts, Representative Edmunds, of Pennsylvania has presented a great opportunity. He has introduced a bill providing that any holders of Federal bonds who desire to do so may send them in marked for cancellation, a notation, to be made thereon, or by letter, indicating in favor of which nation the cancellation is to be credited. The Treasury Department will follow the directions of the bondholders who surrender their bonds for this purpose, and they will be duly notified that their wishes have been carried out. There need be no rush. The whole matter can be handled in an orderly and expeditious manner. If you have a bond for $100, or for $10,000, just mail it to the Secretary of the Treasury to be canceled, telling him that it should be credited on the debt of England, France, or any nation which you so favor. Mr. Edmunds in his bill makes no provision for a special bureau to handle the

(Mapion Chronicle)

The disposition on the part of the leaders of the Democratic party in the state legislature to haggle over the appropriation for a new reformatory at Pendleton is not creditable either to them or their party. Everybody knows that their opposition is not indulged in either with a view of saving the taxpayers money, or securing a better reformatory. What the Democratic leaders are hoping to do is to embarrass the administration of Governor McCray and improve the chances for the election of a Democratic governor in 1924. We are very much of the opinion that they are not playing good politics when they resort to work of this character. The taxpayers are not a lot of ignoramuses. They have intelligence enough to understand the situation and to discern the merits of Governor McCray's position in the building of the reformatory. We doubt if there is a man of any intelligence in the state, who is at all conversant with state politics, who does not recognize the fact that Governor McCray is a man singularly devoted to the best interests of the state and of such sterling honesty that there is no limit to which he cannot be trusted to do what is right in the discharge of his duties as Governor. Before the next gubernatorial election, the reformatory will have been completed and the matter in all details will be before the people. If the work has not been efficiently and economically done, that will be the proper time for the Democrats to raise a hue and cry over the matter. In the meantime, a sense of political self respect and a decent regard for the reputation of the state should lead them into co-operation with the governor in the building of the reformatory that will be a credit to the state. The day of small town politics in Indiana state legislature has gone by. Obstructionists tactics and political sidelay are not only unbefitting to the gentleman who constitute the legislature, but they are bound to create in the minds of the people an unfavorable impression.

OLD FAMILY DOCTOR AND THE OLD FAMILY HORSE

The poem that follows was written by Dr. J. T. Simpson of Holden, Missouri, an uncle of Mrs. Victoria Carter, 416 North Morgan street, in memory of his father, Dr. Nelson Simpson, grandfather of Mrs. Carter. Both men were well known among many older people in Rush county.

He was young and he was handsome, and his spirits were all proud; He had started with the boys to school but had far exceeded the crowd;

Night and day he toiled and labored adding letters to his name, And the neighbors all expected many honors and much fame.

His ambition was for surgery 'tho he hated "cut and slash," So he let the free beer dimer 'til it faded to an ash.

And he just became a practitioner of the kind we honor and we love, And his practice kept on steady without the city push and shove.

Springtime ripened into fall time, fall time to winter black and bare, And 'round his high cut forehead came the silver to his hair.

He had waited on the lordly he had tended to the poor; Relieved their pain when they were suffering, made their families safe and sure.

Not a call did he refuse them, tho it came in day or night; His own health was all forgotten and his friends he'd never alight.

The only thing 'cept his family, was his horse that stayed real true, And over many miles they traveled and many bizards they'd pulled through.

He would talk as to a human, "Come Old Charley, we must go; I know you're tired, so am I old horse but we can take it slow." Some little breath from heaven may be waiting to be born; Or some weary, tired veteran may need courage for the morn."

And so the anxious waiting patients would listen at the door, And welcome those swift hoof sounds they had heard so oft before.

Now the thing that was lacking in this life of sacrifice Was the fact that most the people could not pay the price.

So the backs of these two partners nearly broke with toil and work, But they were always faithful, careful not to ever shirk.

Young M. D. came and mounted the rugged road to fame, But they never put a blemish on the country doctor's name.

For his life was one of honor and his death was Heaven's gain. On a back lot in the village is a mound that no one knows.

Though beneath it sleeps the beast that saved many lives of those.

In the little family cemetery where the grasses wave and moan Rests the tired heart from practice, in the last spot he calls home.

It's just the story of the life you've known so well of course, For it's your Old Family Doctor and his Old Family Horse.

Arlington is all set for the independent basketball tourney to be held at the gymnasium there, Friday and Saturday. Eight teams will try for honors as follows: Glenwood, Orange, New Salem, Fairview, Connersville, Moscow, Arlington Juniors, and the Arlington A. C's.

The first game will be played between New Salem and the Arlington Juniors Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. At 3:30 Friday afternoon Glenwood will meet Fairview. At night at 7:30 o'clock Moscow will play the Arlington A. C's and at 8:30 Connersville and Orange will clash.

On Saturday afternoon at two o'clock the winners of the first and second games of Friday afternoon will play for honors and the second game will be between the winners of the third and fourth games on Friday. This game will be played at three o'clock. The tourney will close at 8:30 o'clock Saturday night when the winners of the two afternoon games will battle for honors. The curtain raiser to this game will be between the Arlington high school girls and the New Salem girls.

The Homer Speed Kings had entered the tourney but withdrew and New Salem took their place. Most of the teams entered are evenly matched. The Connersville Anstead Engineering team is the one that will make the most trouble in the opinion of most fans and are expected to be hard to beat.

The Arlington Juniors claim they will be hard to beat also. No matter what the outcome may be, the series promises to be very interesting. There will be four sessions and those desiring to attend may obtain season tickets or single admission tickets.

The sectional tourney is one of several which is being held in the state during the next few weeks, and all of the sectional winners will go to the state tourney at Indianapolis in March.

Greensburg also is having a sectional this week. Rushville held one of the tourneys two years ago, when the Shelbyville Independent team won the meet.

Garfield Of Terre Haute

HOPE FOR WHIRLWIND FINISH

The Rushville high school basketball quintet will play their last home game of the season here Friday night, meeting as their foe, the Garfield high school team of Terre Haute and in the preliminary game, the Hi seconds will tangle the Everton team.

Although the Rushville team has not made as good a showing this season as was expected at the start of the year, yet it is hoped that a whirlwind finish will be made. The Terre Haute team is rated in the Big Ten list, and has held third place for a long time. It will be recalled that they played the last game in the state tourney last spring, and were defeated by a few points by Franklin.

The fact that they were defeated last Friday night at Crawfordsville has caused the belief in basketball circles that the team has been over-rated this year. Rushville has been practicing hard and will put up a hard fight to win the last home game. The other two games on the schedule are at Anderson and Elwood, and the sectional tourney March 2 and 3 will close the local season.

The writer happens to be an old Rushville High School Booster. At times it seems to him that you are an old High School Knocker. Anyway the question that I wish to bring up is that of changing the name of our High School Squad to Graham, instead of good-old "R. H. S."

Let's leave old R. H. S.'s name alone. She has nothing to be ashamed of, she never had, and Heaven's grant never will, unless some disgruntled writer, ensconced behind some newspaper's sport sheet, might press such propaganda as to cause her name to be changed.

HERE'S OUR ANSWER

Does anyone here know anyone here that is going to school in Con-

nersville? We gotta hunch that we know who wrote the letter. The only thing we figure out is that the Connersville high school hasn't any name, equally as nice as the Graham high school. They call 'em ward schools over there. The Rushville high school was named after Prof. David Graham, and Hittin' 'em still maintains that it should be called after him, and every so-called high school booster, tradition or patriotism originating in the high school should be founded upon the principles laid down long ago by that "Grand Old Man". You say that you have pride in the memories of that school under the name of R. H. S., but while you were attending that school, you should have given it a second thought that such a school was made possible by David Graham. If you are such a Booster for the school, do you think that the founder of the institution had Bolshevik ideas, and surely if not, do you think that it would be Bolshevik to have the school name carried forward at all times, whether printed on the basketball jerseys, or inscribed in the minds of those who go out from the school each year, such as you said you have done. Hittin' 'em still says that the Graham High school is a good name, and why not use it?

High School Varsity Meets "Scrubs"
in a Practice Game

The local high school varsity squad came very near meeting their Waterloo Wednesday night in a practice game with a bunch of "scrub" players, when the final count was 22 to 21. The "scrubs" lined up Phillips and Cartmel of the regulars and Adams, Cooper and Christopher of the Merits. The high school team, used Newbold, Hilligoss, McNamara, Walker, and some substitutes. The game was close all of the way, and furnished all members of the squad a good opportunity to have practice. The first half ended 21 to 16 in favor of the "scrubs". With only one minute to play, the scrubs were leading 21 to 20, but the varsity came through with the winning goal.

A business meeting preceded the social hour during which Valentine contests and games were enjoyed. Twenty guests were present for the meeting and delicious refreshments were served.

Owing to an unintentional oversight of the person who reported the reception for the new Presbyterian minister, The Rev. Gibson Wilson and family, one of the best musical numbers on the program, a cornet duet by Robert Gantner and Harry Lucas, and a vocal solo by Gertrude Snodgrass was omitted. Also the name of Mrs. Will Meredith was left out of the list of those in the receiving line.

Keaton entertained a number of his little friends Wednesday afternoon from 3:30 o'clock to 5:30 o'clock at his home in this city with a Valentine party, honoring his eleventh birthday anniversary. A play entitled "Aunt Betty's Flag for Washington" will be given at the Second M. E. church Friday evening. A turkey supper will be served at five o'clock. A general invitation is extended to the public.

When mother-in-law threatened a visit, the couple in the small flat said they had no room for complaint. The most fussy people have no room for complaint when they trade with E. R. Casady.

The reason some men keep in good spirits is a secret still. It is not a secret still why animals thrive. They are fed on Purina Chows from Rushville Feed and Poultry Supply Store.

It looked bad for Jones. He was seen in a secluded spot, to pull back her hood and get very close to her. It did not look right—so Jones brought the auto to Wm. E. Bowen Automotive Service.

Have to Get Up Nights for Bladder Relief?

Try Simple Method This Dayton Man Reports Relieved Him Quickly

Mr. Wm. D. Ostermeyer, 336 E. Second St., says in his own home paper, the Dayton Daily News: "My bladder caused me to get up many times at night and also inconvenienced me as often as every 30 minutes in the day. After taking a few Lithiated Buchu (Keller formula) tablets my bladder is perfectly normal. They also relieved a very lame back for me. It gives me much pleasure to tell my friends about these little tablets."

Lithiated Buchu (Keller formula) acts on the kidneys and bladder like Epsom Salts do on the bowels. It cleans them out. It is not a patent medicine, as the formula is on the package. The tablets cost 2c each. The price makes it possible to place in the formula several high-priced drugs, which are helpful for relief. Very likely you have never taken anything like this remedy. Try a few doses for backache, scalding, scanty or high-colored urine, and frequent desire at night.

You can get Lithiated Buchu (Keller formula) at Pitman & Wilson's and drug stores everywhere, or write The Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsburg, O.—Advertisement.

FLYING RECORD OF U. S. IS IN DANGER

Lieuts. MacReady and Oakley Kelley in Veteran T-2 Will Try to Out-do Record

(By United Press)

Dayton O Feb. 15—America's premier aviators are prepared to smash the world's endurance record for flying.

This month, weather permitting, Lieuts. John A. MacReady and Oakley Kelley, will mount the veteran T-2 in an authorized attempt to out-do their record of 35 hours, 18 minutes and fifteen seconds established in a flight over San Diego, Calif., last fall.

The California record as not recognized, as official American Aeronautical Association representatives were not present to observe and time the flight.

The trial next month will have the full authorization of the Army Air Service and official observers will be on hand, according to an announcement from McCook Field here. During the flight, the wings of the T-2, the same plane in which the former endurance trial was made, will carry electric lights to distinguish it from any other plane that might be flying at night.

MacReady and Kelly will wear electrically warmed flying togs. They will alternate at the stick.

Thirty-four hours is the recognized world's endurance record, held by a French pilot.

"We intend to take along enough grub to last as long as 34 hours," Lieut. MacReady said. "Sandwiches and hot coffee, nothing fancy."

LOVE AT FIRST SIGHT

London, Feb. 14.—Eamonn DeValera has accepted William Cosgrave's proposal that the rebels cease fighting and leave the question of Free State or republic to a plebiscite, according to the Daily Mail's Dublin correspondent. The Free State president advanced the suggestion in a recent interview with the United Press.

"Let England remove the threat of war and pledge herself to abide by the result of the plebiscite on the question of republic or Free State", DeValera replied, according to the Mail. "We are willing to accept the result. Irishmen will never disestablish the republic and accept the treaty of their own will, if this question can be tested."

VALUABLE DOGS DIE

Seymour, Ind., Feb. 15.—A score of dogs have died here in the last two weeks, presumably from poison. Many of them were valued highly by their owners as hunters or watch dogs. James A. Willey, sanitary officer has been called upon to dispose of at least ten carcasses within the last two weeks and others have been buried by their owners. A new dog ordinance passed by the city council requires that policemen pick up all stray dogs and take them to the pound.

DAUGHERTY IS BETTER

Washington, Feb. 15.—Attorney General Daugherty's condition is so improved that it will not be long before he is able to return to his work, Brig. General Sawyer, his physician said today. Daugherty's blood pressure has been brought to normal, Sawyer said.

Diego to Indianapolis in 27 hours and three minutes. It was an unsuccessful attempt at a non-stop transcontinental record.

The T-2 also was used in that trip which ended with engine trouble. The flight was unprecedented for hovering experiences in the air.

Both pilots are determined, they said, to "take another crack at that coast to coast thing."

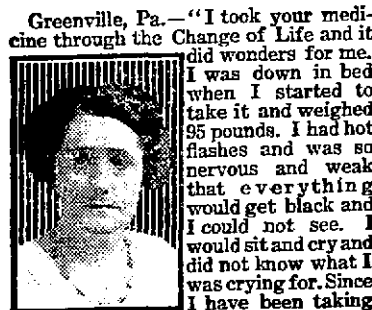

Besides his other distinctions, MacReady also is the holder of the world's altitude record—42,800 feet attained two years ago.

Officials at the field said the projected flight probably will be started unannounced, because of the uncertainty of weather conditions.

Yonkers, that the audience had him arrested for disturbing them and the judge fined him $10.

For Women Who Rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Greenville, Pa.—"I took your medicine through the Change of Life and it did wonders for me. I was down in bed when I started to take it and weighed 95 pounds. I had hot flashes and was so nervous and weak that everything would get black and I could not see. I would sit and cry and did not know what I was crying for. Since I have been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel younger than I did ten years ago, and my friends all tell me I look younger. I owe it all to the Vegetable Compound. I do all my housework for a family of seven now. I will be glad to answer any woman who writes me in regard to my case."—Mrs. JOHN MYERS, 55 Union St., Greenville, Pa.

Many letters similar to this have been published testifying to the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They are sincere expressions from women who describe as best they can their feelings before and after taking this well-known medicine.

Many times they state in their letters their willingness to answer women who write them. It is an offer dictated by gratitude and a desire to help others.

Income Tax Facts

NO. 13.

Business expenditures are not always business expenditures within the meaning of the income tax law. For example, a merchant may build an addition to his warehouse at a cost of $100,000. This is a capital expenditure for an addition to his assets. Capital expenditures are not deductible.

Distinction is made between expenditures for an asset and expenditures in connection with an asset. If the merchant should, during the year spend $500 for repairs to his warehouse, such as painting the roof or replacing broken windows, he may deduct such amount as a business expense.

Medical, law or other professional books, machinery, tools, implements, or surgical instruments purchased by a taxpayer for use in his trade or profession, and which are a permanent character are capital assets and their cost is not allowed as a deduction. A farmer may not deduct the cost of a threshing machine or tractor, these being capital expenditures, but is allowed to deduct the cost of hoes, rakes, and small tools which are used up in course of a year or two in farm operation.

The purchase price of an automobile, even when used wholly for business or professional purposes, is not deductible, but is regarded as investment of capital. The cost of gasoline, repairs, and upkeep of an automobile is deductible if wholly used in business. If used partly for business and partly for the pleasure of convenience of the taxpayer and his family, such cost should be apportioned accordingly.

HEAT BY WIRELESS

Warsaw, Ind., Feb. 15.—Houses, factories, business places, trains and steamers will be heated by wireless energy in the not far distant future, according to the belief expressed by O. R. Deaton, Warsaw electrician and one of the first persons to install a wireless telephone set in Northern Indiana.

Deaton's receiving equipment has a range of about 3,000 miles and on frequent occasions he has been in a few seconds apart by adjustment with Cuba and San Francisco using his machine the fractional part of an inch.

PADDOCK TO HAVE FAST MEN TO BEAT

Fast Sprinter Is Taking Proposed Trip East Seriously And Has Strenuous Program

IS DANGEROUS ANTAGONIST

Significant Feature Of His Training Is The Fact He Does Not Underestimate Opponents

Editor's Note: Jackson V. Scholz was a member of the Olympic team which won honors for the United States at Antwerp. This University of Missouri sprinter is still on the track and recently won the metropolitan 70 yard championship and knows the game. —United Press N.Y.

By JACKSON V. SCHOLZ
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, Feb. 15—Charlie Paddock, one of the fastest things on two legs, is taking his proposed trip east seriously and has mapped out a strenuous training period in preparation for the reception he expects to receive from eastern sprinters.

One of the most significant features of his training is the fact that he is not making the big mistake of underestimating his opponents, or of overestimating his own ability; and when an athlete passes through the stages of success which Charlie

Ruth Looks Good for Season

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Feb. 15—Babe Ruth left New York last fall and went up into the farm country of New England full of resolutions and promises.

Senator "Jimmy" Walker, father of the Sunday basketball and the boxing laws, had told the Babe on the eve of his departure that "the dirty faced kids in the street" expected him to be back on his stride next season and the Babe left saying he would.

No efforts have been made to learn if the Babe was keeping his promise to "stay on the wagon", or if he had been chopping wood and plowing the fields, but the Swat King looks like he has been keeping all promises.

He has lost much of his waist line, his eyes are clear and he has the same spring in his walk that he had in 1921, when he was stepping up, hitting 'em and running around the bases.

Ruth says he is going to make a new record next season and if he gets away good in the first week and gets back some of that old confidence, Babe will have a big year and so will baseball.

The hardest thing in keeping a heavyweight stable is keeping 'em heavy, according to James Joy Johnston, the "Boy Bandit" and the champion gatherer of heavyweight hopes.

"They gotta be fed to keep 'em heavyweights and they won't do anything for their feed."

James Joy says Jimmy Dougherty, the Baron of Philadelphia, has had the same experience.

The Baron has in charge a huge colored heavyweight, George Godfrey. George hasn't had a bout in months and he hasn't missed a meal. He earned some money recently acting as a sparring partner in New York with Floyd Johnson.

When he got back to Philadelphia he didn't have a cent. But he did have a new steamer trunk with his name on it, a pair of white spats, a high hat and three canes.

has achieved and yet admits that he can be beaten, he is still a mighty dangerous antagonist and should be treated with all the respect due to a stick of dynamite.

In a recent letter Charlie outlined several of his plans for the near future.

"I never felt better in my life than I do now," he stated. "But whether I can run or not, is another question. You know sprinters are never in a position to answer that question until they have a few races under their belt. My first meet comes on February 17 in the Annual Southern California relay championships. I will try out in the relay."

"I run against California a month later in Los Angeles; Stanford a week after that, and then the following week I run in Berkeley against California and three days later in Palo Alto against Stanford. These are annual return meets. Afterwards comes the final A. A. U. meet here and then for the east and the Penn relays and afterwards the intercollegiate, providing, of course, that I am still able to make the team."

There is no reason to believe that Paddock has lost any of his speed since the Olympics and all his recent records go to show that he is a faster man now than he was at that time. Therefore, whether Paddock is at his best or not upon his arrival here, it will be a big feather in the cap of any sprinter who leads him to the tape.

McAllister, Murchison and Leoney at present look to be his logical opponents. McAllister, who has been discovered and developed in the last year, has not reached the peak of his speed yet, even though he bears the enviable title of junior and senior national one hundred yard champion. Murchison seems to be running as fast as ever and his famous start is still a thing to take the heart out of the best of them.

Leoney, although he has covered himself with much glory in collegiate circles, is still more or less of an unknown quantity. He has registered some mighty fast time and beaten some good men, but he has still to meet several of the top liners, including McAllister and Murchison, in various distances and to kick cinders in the faces of some of the veterans, who have proved such obstacles in the path of aspiring youngsters during the last several years.

In the case of Laconey, the National Championships held at Newark last year cannot be taken as an example of his ability. Laconey we believe had reached the peak of his form early in the season and later in the fall experienced the same encounter when they attempt a return to form and do not have access to the facilities to which they have been accustomed at school. It usually takes a college man a couple of seasons at least to acclimate himself to the different, and less intensive systems of training encountered in the athletic clubs.

100. WAYS To Make Money

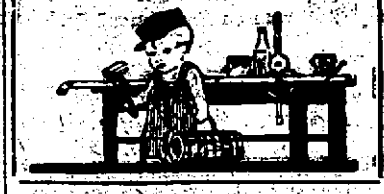

By BILLY WINNER

If I Were a Plumber—

FIRST of all, I would want to be a good plumber. Next, I would see to it that the families in my territory knew that I was a good plumber.

I would have things fixed so that when Smith's radiator developed a leak, Smith would call for me. When Mason's sink became stopped up, I would be the plumber Mason would call on the job. When anything in my line went wrong, I would be the man called in to do the repairing.

I would tell the families in my neighborhood about the service I had to sell with the help of Daily Republican Want Ads. When anything goes wrong with the plumbing, the easiest, most natural thing to do is to grab the ever-ready Daily Republican and look in the Want Ad Section for a plumber; and there would be my Want Ad to direct buyers of plumbing to me.

Easy to Darken Your Gray Hair

YOU CAN BRING BACK COLOR AND LUSTRE WITH SAGE TEA AND SULPHUR

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. At little cost you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger.

THREE BANKERS TO CONTROL ARMOURS

Fifty-one Percent of Common Stock of Gigantic Packing Concern Has Been Trusteed

RECENT RECAPITALIZATION

Trusteeship Was Decided Upon as One of Moves Necessary to Recoup Losses of Millions

Chicago, Feb. 15.—Three Chicago and New York bankers will control the affairs of Armour and Company the next five years, it was learned.

Fifty-one percent of the common stock of the gigantic packing concern has been trusteed. The following men will be the voting trustees of this stock:

Samuel McRoberts, chairman former treasurer of Armour and company, now president of the Metropolitan Trust Company of New York.

Arthur Reynolds, president of the Continental and Commercial bank, Chicago.

Albert H. Wiggin, president of the Chase National Bank, New York.

Formal announcement of the trusteeship control will be announced following the annual meeting of the board of directors, February 20. At the same time it is expected the purchase by Armour of Morris and company will be announced.

The trusteeship was the result of recent recapitalization of the company.

J. Ogden Armour will remain chairman of the board of directors.

The trusteeship was decided upon as one of the moves necessary to recoup losses of millions of dollars by the concern during the post ward deflation period.

Since the establishment of Armour and Company, control has vested with P. D. Armour, the founder, or J. Ogden Armour, his son, who holds approximately 80 percent of the stock.

It is believed Armour will be elected chairman of the executive committee, charged with actual conduct of the business. The banking committee however, will have control of the firm's finances and probably will name the majority of the board of directors.

The absorption of Morris and company was reported practically completed. The purchase price was declared to be approximately $30,000,000.

An Outstanding Achievement

All motor cars may, with one exception, be divided into two classes.

There is the class of cars built to a price, and there is the class built regardless of price.

In the first, quality is sacrificed;—in the second, value.

The exception referred to is the Hupmobile,—a car which any experienced, independent garage mechanic will tell you is as finely built, in all the essentials, as any fine car; and which is priced so low as to make it, in our opinion, the greatest motor car value in the world.

ANOTHER BUBBLE BURST

Opening Grave Of Seaman Failed To Locate The Romanoff Jewels

New York, Feb. 15.—Another Russian jewel bubble burst forth here Wednesday when William Williams, United States treasury agent opened the grave of James Jones at Cypress Hills Cemetery but failed to find the rein the Romanoff jewels.

Persistent rumors that smugglers had hidden $4,000,000 worth of Russian jewels in Jones casket, while the former United States seaman was being brought back to this country for burial, caused the treasury department at Washington to issue orders that the grave be opened.

The grave had been guarded for a week by a squad of soldiers. Wednesday the guard was tripled, every entrance to the cemetery was blocked by soldiers with fixed bayonets and every precaution taken as the coffin was opened. There were no jewels inside.

MANY CATTLE ARE TESTED

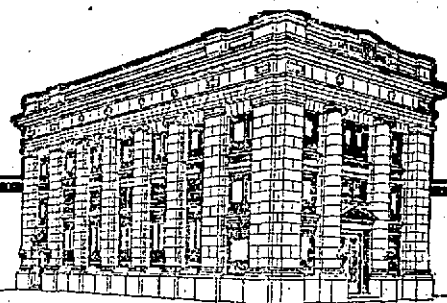

Almost 12,000 Head Given Tubercular Test in St. Joseph County

South Bend, Ind., Feb. 15.—A total of 11,721 head of cattle were tested for tuberculosis in St. Joseph county last year, 10,233 being given the initial test and 1,488 the first semi-annual test, according to figures announced today by County Agent E. C. Bird, who directed the work with the co-operation of the county farm bureau. The testing was done by nine months by Dr. C. T. Howard, federal veterinarian.

Ninety percent of the cattle tested were tested under the area plan. That is, all the cattle in a certain area were tested while the inspector was in that area. Local farm bureau members arranged the schedule.
